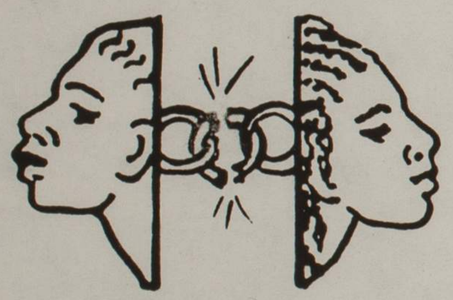
FREEDOM BOOKS opened in 1988 as Alkebu-Ian Books and Gifts because then there were no local African (Black) bookstores. So, we try to fill that void.

We believe, that it is fundamental that African people have access to information about and written by African people.

We believe, that it is absolutely necessary for African people to have an information resource center owned and controlled by Africans because this will enable us to effectively deal with issues that confront us daily.

Therefore, we have developed the Center of African Thought that offers workshops, seminars and packets of information that will educate and identify skills for individuals, families, organizations, etc. Some of the topics are self-esteem, infant mortality, health issues, male responsibility, teen pregnancy, counterinsurgency against African people.



at FREEDOM BOOKS we have . . .

Charlene Williams Peyton

Mrs. Charlene Peyton is a native of Denver, Colorado, the daughter of a Baptist minister. The entire family is very musical and Charlene, with her father and sister, formed a trio which regularly sang locally and on radio.

She began her formal music training with Frank McCoy in El Centro, California, and then went on to Azusa Pacific College where she majored in Music and graduated with a B.A. degree. During her college years, she was a featured soloist with the concert Choir and Chorale.

Mrs. Peyton is married to Kenneth Peyton. While they were living in England, Mrs. Peyton directed chapel choirs and formed and directed the "Charlene Peyton Singers". She is the winner of the U.S.A.F.E. Talent Contest and the Bury St. Edmunds Music Festival in the Contralto and Negro Spiritual classes. Mrs. Peyton has performed throughout England, Spain, Switzerland and several other countries.

Since their return to the United States in 1970, Mrs Peyton has continued to direct choirs, teach public school music, and give concerts and recitals. Mrs. Peyton was awarded "Outstanding Woman of America".

Mrs. Peyton is presently a music teacher in the Cape Girardeau Public School System and was honored as "Outstanding Teacher of the Year". She sings with, directs, accompanies, and arranges music for "Heartsong", a ladies quartet formed in the summer of 1986. They have recently finished their first album of contemporary christian music and she has just finished her second solo album. Along with her extensive performance schedule, Mrs. Peyton is an active church and community member. Her activities include teaching an adult Sunday School class, belongs to The League of Women Voters, NAACP, Otahki Girl Scout Council, and Delta Kappa Gamma, an Educational Sorority.

How does the Destiny Telecomm Program work?

1. Start by buying one ~~60 minute~~ 3 hour Destiny Telecomm card and sales kit for $100. (That's all you ever have to pay out of your pocket!) Personally sponsor 2 other people. Now, you qualify for commissions. Now help each of your two IRs sell their two. When your organization has attained 12 sales, with at least 1/3 (4) in each leg, you receive $100 commission. When your organization has attained 50 sales, with at least 1/3 (17) in each leg, your commission is $500. You may now reenter Phase 1, with a new Destiny Telecomm card order. All new sales made by your existing organization count toward your next 12 and 50. You may do this over and over again until you are earning the maximum Phase 1 commission of $500 per day. Each Destiny Telecomm card is good for 60 minutes of domestic time or 60 units of international time.

2. Enter Phase 2 with a $300 purchase of 5 Destiny Telecomm cards the first time you complete Phase 1. (This is deducted out of your Phase 1 commission, not out of your pocket). When 12 of your IRs follow you into Phase 2, you earn a commission of $500. When 50 IRs follow you into Phase 2, your commission is $2000. You may now reenter Phase 2 with a new Destiny Telecomm card order.

3. Enter Phase 3 with a $1000 purchase of 16 Destiny Telecomm cards the first time you complete Phase 2. (This is deducted out of your Phase 2 commissions) When 12 of your IRs follow your into Phase 3, you earn a commission of $2000. When 50 IRs follow you into Phase 3, your commission is $7000. You may now reenter Phase 3 with a new Phase 3 Destiny Telecomm card order.

4. You are now cycling through all 3 phases at the same time. Each time one of your IRs re-enters a phase, that "reorder sale" will count for you the same as if it were a new entry. Just remember, when reaching the 12 and 50 quotas, you must have 1/3 of the quota in each leg.

5. Commissions are also earned, by signing up your friends' home phones (1+ service) at reduced rates. Commissions are paid to the "Selling IR" and that IR's personal sponsor. For those who qualify, commissions are paid for marketing our Full Service Business Programs, International Call Back Program, and our Private Label Phone Card Program for businesses and fundraising groups.

Personally sponsor your first two people in your first 30 days and receive the Golden Eagle Bonus Card!

DESTINY TELECOMM INTERNATIONAL INC. - TERMS AND CONDITIONS

I hereby apply to become an Independent Representative (hereinafter referred to as IR) of DESTINY TELECOMM International, Inc. (hereinafter referred to DESTINY TELECOMM and to participate in it's marketing program.

AS AN INDEPENDENT REPRESENTATIVE, I UNDERSTAND AND AGREE THAT:

1. I am of legal age in the jurisdiction in which I enter this agreement..

2. I shall become an IR upon acceptance of this application by the company. I shall have the right to sell the products offered by DESTINY TELECOMM accordance with the marketing program and policies and procedures, which may be amended from time to time. Amendments are made by announcements in company publications.

3. DESTINY TELECOMM International, Inc. at its discretion, may amend the marketing plan, its policies and procedures, and terms of this IR agreement.

4. I have carefully reviewed DESTINY TELECOMM's marketing plan and policies and procedures, and acknowledge that they are incorporated as part of this agreement in their present form and as modified from time to time by DESTINY TELECOMM. I certify that I have received a copy of the marketing plan and policies and procedures from my sponsor, up-line coordinator or from DESTINY TELECOMM.

5. An IR shall be entitled to cancel participation in the marketing program at any time and for any reason upon written notice to the company. Upon notification or termination, the sponsoring IR or DESTINY TELECOMM will repurchase mandatory sales kit materials in accordance with it's policies as set forth in the DESTINY TELECOMM marketing plan, and policies and procedures. The term of the company IR agreement is one year. It's must renew annually. Annual fee is $10.00.

6. Upon acceptance of this application by DESTINY TELECOMM, I will be an independent contractor, responsible for my own business and not an employee of DESTINY TELECOMM. I will not be treated as an employee with regard to any state or federal laws covering employees, including but not limited to the Federal Insurance Contributions Act, Workmen's Compensation, Income Tax withholding at source, or any federal or state tax laws. It is my responsibility to pay self-employment, state and federal income taxes as required by law.

7. I will not use the DESTINY TELECOMM International, Inc. trade names and/or trademarks except in sales materials or in other advertising provided to me by DESTINY TELECOMM. Furthermore, only literature produced or otherwise authorized by DESTINY TELECOMM may be used. Any use of unauthorized literature is strictly prohibited and is grounds for termination.

8. Any IR who sponsors other IRs, must fulfill the obligation of performing a bona fide supervisory, distributing, and selling function in the sale or deliver of product to the ultimate consumer and in the training of those sponsored. IRs must maintain ongoing contact, communication and management supervision with his or her sales organization. Examples of such supervision may include but are not limited to: newsletters, written correspondence, personal meetings, telephone contacts, voice mail, electronic mail, training sessions, accompany individuals to company training and sharing genealogy information with those sponsored. IRs must provide evidence to DESTINY TELECOMM at it's request of ongoing fulfillment of supervisory responsibilities.

9. The DESTINY TELECOMM program is built on retail sales to the ultimate consumer. DESTINY TELECOMM recognizes that IRs may also wish to purchase product for their own personal or family use. Under the DESTINY TELECOMM program. IR. will not receive credit for sales quotas, bonuses, qualification, or advancement for his or her personal purchases, nor will he or she receive commissions on personal purchase of other products that may from time to time be offered by DESTINY TELECOMM.

10. IR. acknowledges that he/she is a wholly independent marketing representative who establishes and services retail customers for DESTINY TELECOMM products as an independent contractor The position of IR does not constitute either a sales of a franchise or of a distributorship Absolutely no fees have been or will be required from the IR for the right to distribute DESTINY TELECOMM products pursuant to this agreement. This agreement is not intended and shall not be construed to create a relationship of employer-employee, agency, partnership or joint venture between any IR, Sponsor, and/or DESTINY TELECOMM. AS AN INDEPENDENT REPRESENTATIVE, the IR shall:

A. Abide by any federal, state, county and local laws, rules and regulations pertaining to this agreement and/.or the acquisition, receipt holding, selling, distributing, or advertising of company products.

B. At the IRs own expense, make execute or file all such reports and obtain such licenses as are required by law or public authority with respect to this agreement and/or the receipt, holding, selling, distributing or advertising of DESTINY TELECOMM products.

C. Be solely responsible for declaration and payment of all local, state and federal taxes as they accrue because of the IRs activities in connection with this agreement.

11. If IR has purchased DESTINY TELECOMM products and/or sales materials and is in default on payments, DESTINY TELECOMM shall be entitled to deduct amounts due from commissions due. In addition, default on payments due for elective purchases from DESTINY TELECOMM shall be grounds for termination of IR and/or such legal action as the company deems appropriate.

12. Prior written approval from DESTINY TELECOMM is required for the following:

A. To advertise DESTINY TELECOMM products;

B. To use or produce any literature other than DESTINY TELECOMM produced literature relating to the products, company, or marketing plan.

13. IR agrees to submit any complaint, grievance or claim against an IR or DESTINY TELECOMM to the Dispute Resolution Board for resolution and settlement in accordance with the policies and procedures prior to contacting any regulatory agencies or taking any legal action. IR agrees to allow the Dispute Resolution Board sixty days to handle the claim. IR agrees that a breach of this covenant on his/her part will make IR liable for damages and legal cost to DESTINY TELECOMM.

14. IR understands that and agrees that the binary marketing plan and any other plan used by DESTINY TELECOMM for marketing it's products has specific reporting and time sensitive qualification requirements. It is the responsibility of IR to understand these and comply. Failure to do so may affect IRs commissions, and no exceptions can be made.

15. This agreement will be binding upon receipt at the company address, as set forth below and upon acceptance thereafter by DESTINY TELECOMM.

16. IR agrees that marketing plan, genealogy reports, IR list, and official literature are proprietary information and are considered trade secrets of DESTINY TELECOMM.

17. IR understands that although he/she may sponsor other IRs, the compensation plan does not allow IR to profit through the activity of sponsoring those IRs. Commissions are paid only from actual product sales made by IR or his/her sponsored IRs. No one has made any promise or guarantee that I will derive any specific income or profit as an IR. My success will depend on my own efforts. Commissions on all products listed in the Product Brochure shall be paid only to the qualified "selling" IR and to his/her "enrolling" sponsor.

18.IR acknowledges that he/she has read, understands, and agrees to the terms set forth in this agreement. This agreement is not in force until accepted by DESTINY TELECOMM.

19. This agreement shall be governed by the laws of the State of California and all claims, disputes, and other matters between the parties of this agreement shall be brought in Alameda County Superior Court, in Oakland, California, USA, or in the United States District Court for the Northern District of California, in Oakland, California.

20. his agreement constitutes the entire agreement between IR and DESTINY TELECOMM and no other additional promises of any kind shall be valid unless in writing by DESTINY TELECOMM.

HERO OF THE MONTH

FLIGHT ATTENDANT FLIES HIGH WITH TEL AMERICA

Sharon Jensen, a filght attendant for eight years, has now found financial freedom with Tel America International.

While expecting her second child, Sharon was introduced to an opportunity in direct selling she thought could be fun and would occupy her time. She had no intention of building a large business, as she disliked recruiting and felt that networking was not for her. When she attended a convention last March, and heard Tom Hopkins speak at that time, she decided she wanted to be up on stage, and set that goal. Shortly thereafter, her close friend, Robin Smith introduced her to a network marketing opportunity that Sharon started working with great focus. At the end of two months, however, she had only made a few hundred dollars. It was at that time, that Tel America came into the lives of Sharon and Robin, and they both put concentrated effort into the program.

Sharon states, "My first month in the business, I was hardly home, but I had set a goal for my husband, Tim, to be able to quit his job by October 1st, and within 3 weeks, he left his position as an Insurance Adjustor." Tim is now more relaxed, works out on a regular basis and supports Sharon by taking care of their two sons, Michael, 2 1/2 yrs. and Parker, 1 year old. He has also become interested in the business and has started sponsoring.

Sharon has no intention of quiting her job as a flight attendant, realizing the importance of coming in contact with prospects on a regular basis. She is presently flying a minimum number of days each month, and does plan to take a five month leave soon, to travel and promote the growth of her business throughout the United States.

In her first month with Tel America, Sharon earned $7,000, and has earned over $48,000 in four months time. "My husband and I recently got back from an 8 day trip to Hawaii, and found that we had earned $10,000 while we were gone. I realize now, that even if I don't do anything to build my business, the money will continue to come in", said Sharon.

What excites Sharon most about this opportunity is helping others to achieve their goals. Recently, Sharon introduced Tel America to her hot tub salesman, and because of her enthusiasm and the quality of the marketing plan, he joined her in building a business. He is now working Tel America full time, and just a few weeks ago purchased his first home.

Sharon emphasizes, "Setting goals and having the team support of Robin Smith and Nancy Dailey has been the key to my success. You are not bugging people when you share this opportunity, you are helping them to become successful."

"City of Roses" Hosts Fast Start Training

Portland, Oregon Independent Representatives hosted the second Tel America "fast start" training, held October 6th & 7th, at Montgomery Park Plaza. Over 200 attended Friday evening's business opportunity meeting and a tremendous turnout of 708 people enjoyed Saturday's Fast Start Training.

Workshops conducted by independent representatives covered such topics as: Compensation Plan, Sponsoring/Recruiting, Business Basics & the Responsibilities of Independent Representatives, and the "How-To's" of conducting meetings and creating positive energy.

Attendees had the opportunity to meet the Home Office staff and company associates and be the first to purchase a Tel America special edition — a beautiful silver coin that is also a pre-paid long distance phone card. It sold out rapidly, and has already increased in value. The entire event was a complete success.

IR's will not want to miss the next Fast Start Training on December 1st & 2nd in Sparks, Nevada. Friday night includes a variety show, featuring Tel America representatives, and other surprise events. Saturday is a full day of workshops, where IR's will hear about company updates, new products & forms, special performance awards, and experience business building workshops conducted by successful Tel America representatives. If you are serious about building a successful business, this event is a must!! See the enclosed flyer for registration.

Questions and Answers

The following information is designed to answer many of the commonly asked questions about Destiny Telecomm and The Greatest Opportunity in American Business Today.

1.Q. I understand that it is possible for me to have virtually unlimited long distance calling. How is that possible?

A. Each time you enter into phase one, two, or three, you will receive either one, five, or sixteen pre-paid long distance phone cards. Each card has sixty minutes domestic U.S. calling time on it. Since most representatives choose to automatically re-enter each phase, these telecards are purchased by you out of your commissions each time you re-enter a business phase. You never have to pay out of your pocket again after your initial purchases.

2.Q. Is there any additional cost to me other than the $100 per collectible Pre-paid phone card?

A. No, other than optional sales aids. In fact, the initial $100 is earned back as soon as you have 12 sales total in your organization, with at least one-third of those sales in your weakest leg. If you choose for automatic renewal, each time you have 50 sales in a business phase. Destiny Telecomm will automatically deduct the start-over cost of $100, $300, or $1,000 out of your earned commissions. You do have the opportunity to purchase more than one collectible pre-paid phone card. Many representatives purchase three or seven Collectible pre-paid phone cards initially in order to maximize their earning potential.

3.Q. What is the key to success in Destiny Telecomm?

A. The most important accomplishment is to encourage everyone to sponsor at least two people for every business center they own. A special fast start "Eagle" telecard is awarded to representatives that sponsor two people in their first 30 days. This special sixty minute telecard is awarded for each business center you own. A fast start is important because it accelerates your opportunity for faster cycling through each business phase.

4.Q. Is Destiny Telecomm a multi-level company?

A. No. Destiny Telecomm is a network marketing company that pays commissions based on a sales quota marketing plan for every 12 and 50 sales you have in you downline organization. Destiny Telecomm markets pre-paid long distance calling cards. The marketing program is a simple, yet highly effective binary marketing system. You build your own organization down from the two positions under each business center you own.

5.Q. How are commissions tracked and how often are they paid?

A. Destiny Telecomm tracks commission on a state of the art customized software program. Each day sales are down loaded and checks are written six days a week.

6.Q. What technology supports the telecards from Destiny Telecomm?

A. Telecards from Destiny Telecomm are supported by an LNX 2000 computer switching system that is the state of the art in telecommunications. This special switch has many enhanced features that allow for customized card programming such as private voice mail and custom voice greetings in over 14 foreign languages.

7.Q. What are Destiny Telecomm's plans for future telecard issues?

A. Destiny Telecomm is issuing special state series telecards now. In addition, collectible quality inspirational, religious, and special Mexico telecards have just been released. Destiny Telecomm is also only the second company in the world to release its' first "Silver Dollar Telecard" commemorating the "Extravaganza" held in Portland. This pure silver coin telecard only had 375 mint issues with sequential numbering and ten minutes of calling time. New and innovative telecard issues will continue to come forward from Destiny Telecomm... The Greatest Opportunity in American Business Today!

8.Q. Other than telecards, what else does Destiny Telecomm offer to representatives for income opportunities?

A. Destiny Telecomm continues to seek products and services that enhance the overall value of membership to our independent representatives. Presently, Destiny Telecomm offers commissionable opportunities through their International Callback Program and Business Long Distance Calling Program. Other opportunities for income development are available with our Quick Call Dialers and Pager Program. Destiny Telecomm's Custom Telecard Program provides for excellent sales opportunities in the hottest telecommunications market in the United States.....Custom telecards are the newest fund raising item and for product or company promotions, telecards are catching on like a wild fire. Now, Destiny Telecomm representatives can easily provide telecards to meet these growing market needs.

DESTINY TELECOMM INTERNATIONAL INC. - TERMS AND CONDITIONS

I hereby apply to become an Independent Representative (hereinafter referred to as IR) of DESTINY TELECOMM International, Inc. (hereinafter referred to DESTINY TELECOMM and to participate in it's marketing program.

AS AN INDEPENDENT REPRESENTATIVE, I UNDERSTAND AND AGREE THAT:

1. I am of legal age in the jurisdiction in which I enter this agreement..

2. I shall become an IR upon acceptance of this application by the company. I shall have the right to sell the products offered by DESTINY TELECOMM accordance with the marketing program and policies and procedures, which may be amended from time to time. Amendments are made by announcements in company publications.

3. DESTINY TELECOMM International, Inc. at its discretion, may amend the marketing plan, its policies and procedures, and terms of this IR agreement.

4. I have carefully reviewed DESTINY TELECOMM's marketing plan and policies and procedures, and acknowledge that they are incorporated as part of this agreement in their present form and as modified from time to time by DESTINY TELECOMM. I certify that I have received a copy of the marketing plan and policies and procedures from my sponsor, up-line coordinator or from DESTINY TELECOMM.

5. An IR shall be entitled to cancel participation in the marketing program at any time and for any reason upon written notice to the company. Upon notification or termination, the sponsoring IR or DESTINY TELECOMM will repurchase mandatory sales kit materials in accordance with it's policies as set forth in the DESTINY TELECOMM marketing plan, and policies and procedures. The term of the company IR agreement is one year. It's must renew annually. Annual fee is $10.00.

6. Upon acceptance of this application by DESTINY TELECOMM, I will be an independent contractor, responsible for my own business and not an employee of DESTINY TELECOMM. I will not be treated as an employee with regard to any state or federal laws covering employees, including but not limited to the Federal Insurance Contributions Act, Workmen's Compensation, Income Tax withholding at source, or any federal or state tax laws. It is my responsibility to pay self-employment, state and federal income taxes as required by law.

7. I will not use the DESTINY TELECOMM International, Inc. trade names and/or trademarks except in sales materials or in other advertising provided to me by DESTINY TELECOMM. Furthermore, only literature produced or otherwise authorized by DESTINY TELECOMM may be used. Any use of unauthorized literature is strictly prohibited and is grounds for termination.

8. Any IR who sponsors other IRs, must fulfill the obligation of performing a bona fide supervisory, distributing, and selling function in the sale or deliver of product to the ultimate consumer and in the training of those sponsored. IRs must maintain ongoing contact, communication and management supervision with his or her sales organization. Examples of such supervision may include but are not limited to: newsletters, written correspondence, personal meetings, telephone contacts, voice mail, electronic mail, training sessions, accompany individuals to company training and sharing genealogy information with those sponsored. IRs must provide evidence to DESTINY TELECOMM at it's request of ongoing fulfillment of supervisory responsibilities.

9. The DESTINY TELECOMM program is built on retail sales to the ultimate consumer. DESTINY TELECOMM recognizes that IRs may also wish to purchase product for their own personal or family use. Under the DESTINY TELECOMM program. IR. will not receive credit for sales quotas, bonuses, qualification, or advancement for his or her personal purchases, nor will he or she receive commissions on personal purchase of other products that may from time to time be offered by DESTINY TELECOMM.

10. IR. acknowledges that he/she is a wholly independent marketing representative who establishes and services retail customers for DESTINY TELECOMM products as an independent contractor The position of IR does not constitute either a sales of a franchise or of a distributorship Absolutely no fees have been or will be required from the IR for the right to distribute DESTINY TELECOMM products pursuant to this agreement. This agreement is not intended and shall not be construed to create a relationship of employer-employee, agency, partnership or joint venture between any IR, Sponsor, and/or DESTINY TELECOMM. AS AN INDEPENDENT REPRESENTATIVE, the IR shall:

A. Abide by any federal, state, county and local laws, rules and regulations pertaining to this agreement and/.or the acquisition, receipt holding, selling, distributing, or advertising of company products.

B. At the IRs own expense, make execute or file all such reports and obtain such licenses as are required by law or public authority with respect to this agreement and/or the receipt, holding, selling, distributing or advertising of DESTINY TELECOMM products.

C. Be solely responsible for declaration and payment of all local, state and federal taxes as they accrue because of the IRs activities in connection with this agreement.

11. If IR has purchased DESTINY TELECOMM products and/or sales materials and is in default on payments, DESTINY TELECOMM shall be entitled to deduct amounts due from commissions due. In addition, default on payments due for elective purchases from DESTINY TELECOMM shall be grounds for termination of IR and/or such legal action as the company deems appropriate.

12. Prior written approval from DESTINY TELECOMM is required for the following:

A. To advertise DESTINY TELECOMM products;

B. To use or produce any literature other than DESTINY TELECOMM produced literature relating to the products, company, or marketing plan.

13. IR agrees to submit any complaint, grievance or claim against an IR or DESTINY TELECOMM to the Dispute Resolution Board for resolution and settlement in accordance with the policies and procedures prior to contacting any regulatory agencies or taking any legal action. IR agrees to allow the Dispute Resolution Board sixty days to handle the claim. IR agrees that a breach of this covenant on his/her part will make IR liable for damages and legal cost to DESTINY TELECOMM.

14. IR understands that and agrees that the binary marketing plan and any other plan used by DESTINY TELECOMM for marketing it's products has specific reporting and time sensitive qualification requirements. It is the responsibility of IR to understand these and comply. Failure to do so may affect IRs commissions, and no exceptions can be made.

15. This agreement will be binding upon receipt at the company address, as set forth below and upon acceptance thereafter by DESTINY TELECOMM.

16. IR agrees that marketing plan, genealogy reports, IR list, and official literature are proprietary information and are considered trade secrets of DESTINY TELECOMM.

17. IR understands that although he/she may sponsor other IRs, the compensation plan does not allow IR to profit through the activity of sponsoring those IRs. Commissions are paid only from actual product sales made by IR or his/her sponsored IRs. No one has made any promise or guarantee that I will derive any specific income or profit as an IR. My success will depend on my own efforts. Commissions on all products listed in the Product Brochure shall be paid only to the qualified "selling" IR and to his/her "enrolling" sponsor.

18.IR acknowledges that he/she has read, understands, and agrees to the terms set forth in this agreement. This agreement is not in force until accepted by DESTINY TELECOMM.

19. This agreement shall be governed by the laws of the State of California and all claims, disputes, and other matters between the parties of this agreement shall be brought in Alameda County Superior Court, in Oakland, California, USA, or in the United States District Court for the Northern District of California, in Oakland, California.

20. his agreement constitutes the entire agreement between IR and DESTINY TELECOMM and no other additional promises of any kind shall be valid unless in writing by DESTINY TELECOMM.

From a series depicting significant Western Characters — past and present.

These high quality hydrostone castings from Daniel Monfort are all very skillfully and individually hand painted.

Each model is unique and retains perfectly the details and expressions of Mr. Monfort's wax originals.

Hydrostone, one of the finest casting materials available today, strong and durable, will please a great number of art collectors, by offering true pieces of art at reasonable prices.

Bronze castings are also available upon special order.

Born in 1942, Daniel Raymond Monfort grew up, attended college, and studied the arts in the Bretagne region of France. Mr. Monfort's potential for drawing was exhibited at an early age, and eventually stories of the American Far West became the vehicle by which he expressed his artistic talents. His fascination with Red Cloud, Sitting Bull, and other prominent Western heroes overshadowed his interest in great European historical figures.

As an art student at Quimper, and later at Nantes, Mr. Monfort found the structured academics of the French schools frustrating and disappointing. His interest was in western art, yet his instructors emphasized a disciplined curriculum of abstract forms, colors, and composition. But, he learned that talent alone was not enough, and now realizes those years of strict instruction were necessary and, in the long run, beneficial.

In 1964, while reproducing famous paintings with colored chalk on the sidewalks of Nice, to help finance his studies, he met the late Dutch artist Van Dongen. Impressed by Mr. Monfort's work, Van Dongen prompted him to pursue his abilities.

Mr. Monfort moved to New York City, hoping to become an illustrator of books. While his drawings and caricatures were always well received, sales were rarely realized. The following years were spent traveling in Canada, the United States, and Europe.

His fascination with the West never waning, Mr. Monfort moved to Denver in 1972, bringing with him his wife and two children. He quickly established a solid reputation as a sculptor of fine Western art.

Today, Mr. Monfort's work is recognized the world over. Thousands of people from all walks of life own a Monfort Original. Many are collectors, for his sculptures are the finest of their type, and are sold at very affordable prices.

WAR CHIEF

Although the individual was subordinate to the communal responsibilities of his tribe, there was no lack of pride in personal prowess among the warriors. This was particularly true of those who had risen to become war chiefs of their people. In most instances the rank had been gained in the field of warfare. These became the despotic leaders and custodians of tribal dignity and tradition. They wore their badge with rare pomp and gusto — in the council lodge, on parade, and on the field of battle — and to boast about their feats was a virtue in which they were equally accomplished.

Traveling light, with only his bedroll, he moved on to the next town, and the next bounty.

WHITE HUNTER

By the 1880's the slaughter of the buffalo by white hide hunters, who left the carcasses to the wolves and scavengers, literally starved out the indians of the plains. One of the marks of a professional buffalo hunter was his ability to drop as many animals as close together as possible in order to save his skinners the necessity of wandering at random over the prairies to retrieve the hides. A good hunter dropped only as many animals as his skinners could handle in the course of a day.

With Van Dongen's encouragement, Mr. Monfort moved to New York City, hoping to become an illustrator of books. The following years were spent traveling in Canada, the United States, and back and forth to Europe, trying to find a niche in the art world.

His fascination of the West never waning, Mr. Monfort moved to Denver in 1972, bringing with him his wife and two children. He quickly became an established artist, and soon built a solid reputation as a sculptor of fine western art.

Today, Mr. Monfort's work is recognized the world over, with representation on three continents. Thousands of people from all walks of life own a Monfort Original. Many are collectors, for Mr. Monfort's sculptures are the finest of their type, and are sold at very affordable prices.

Terms and Conditions of Sales

Terms

For retail business firms, interior designers, and select decorating departments rated in Dun & Bradstreet as satisfactory, open account terms are granted. Other firms providing a minimum of three satisfactory established credit references may also receive open account terms. Non-established accounts should include full remittance with orders. We offer no discount. Our regular terms are net thirty (30) days, from invoice date on all orders. A 1 1/2% finance charge will be assessed monthly against invoices not paid within thirty (30) days. Because of the high cost of labor and paperwork in processing smaller orders, try to keep initial orders to a minimum of $300 wholesale. On all orders less than $300 wholesale, it is necessary to add a handling charge of 5% to help cover handling costs.

Shipping

Orders will normally be shipped UPS unless specified otherwise.

FOB

All merchandise will be shipped F.O.B. Boulder, Colorado.

Damaged Shipment

We must insist that you accept delivery on all orders, even those where there is visible or concealed damage, and file a claim within five (5) days with the delivering carrier. Whereas the delivering carrier is responsible for breakage in transit, our liability for the shipment ceases after it is picked up from our studios. You, the dealer, are still responsible for payment from our invoice whether the shipment comes in damaged or not. We will, or course, assist you in every possible manner in the replacement of pieces due to freight claims immediately. If these stipulations are not followed you will be billed for all resulting necessary expenses.

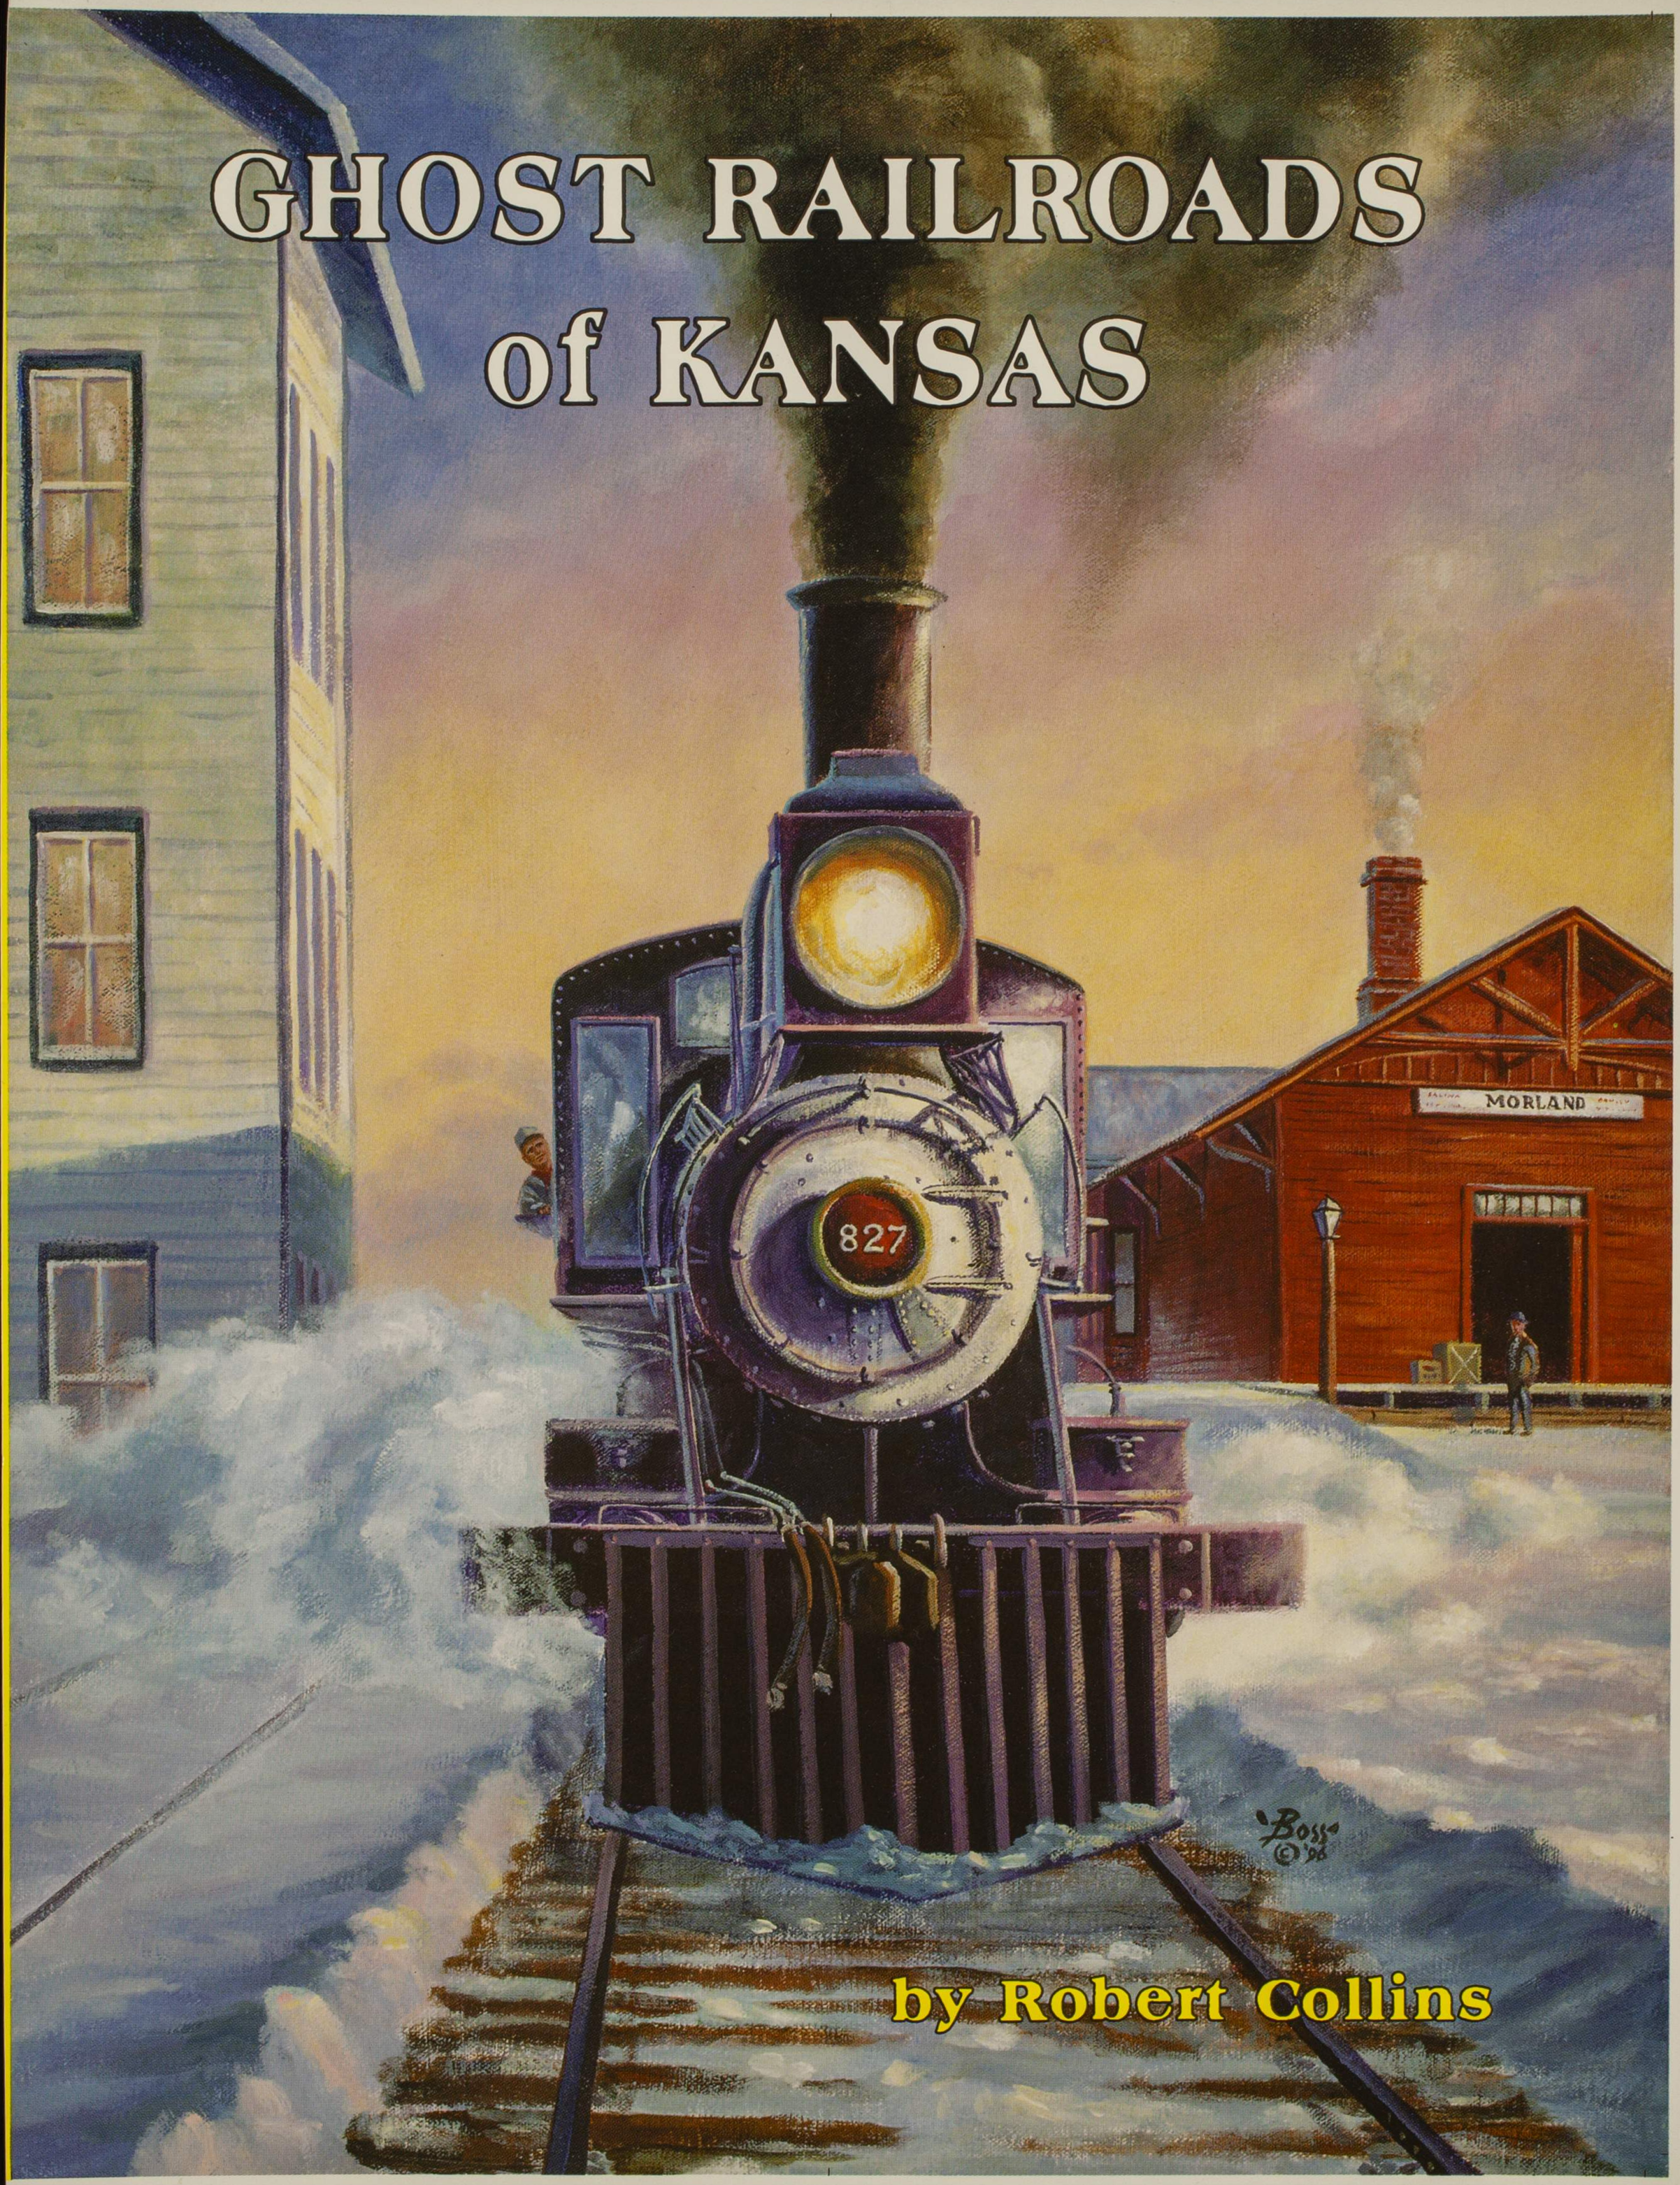
GHOST RAILROADS of KANSAS



by Robert Collins

About the Cover

Union Pacific 4-4-0 No. 827, heading up a westbound freight train, pulls away from the Morland, Kansas, depot on a wintry day in 1908. Engine 827, erected at the UP shops in Omaha in 1887, is best known for pulling the "Pomeroy Special" to Hill City after the town was established in 1888. Renumbered to 941 in 1915, the engine was scrapped in 1926. The structures in this scene, the depot and Morland grain mill, were destroyed by fire in February 1909. This acrylic painting by Michael Boss is in the collection of Faye and Charles Minium

About the Artist

Kansas Artist Michael Boss is a resident of Hill City. He has been professionally creating aviation, space and railroad history paintings for more than 20 years. He promotes and distributes his artwork under the title of Iron Compass Limited.

Instructions for Authors

Because most issues are devoted to a central theme, prospective authors are urged to inquire as to the suitability of potential articles. Please outline via letter the subject proposed.

When submitting articles, they must be original and offered exclusively to JOURNAL of the WEST. The author is responsible for obtaining written permissions required for both quotations and illustrations used as well as costs incurred. In seeking illustrations, the author should mention that the JOURNAL of the WEST is an IRS approved 501(c)3 non-profit organization.

The author should retain a copy of the article as submitted. The manuscript should be typed double-spaced, on one side of 8½x11-inch paper, with ample margins.

Ideal maximum length is 15 pages, including bibliographic note, to follow the essay. End notes if absolutely necessary, should be used for direct quotations only.

The JOURNAL of the WEST is aimed at the knowledgeable Western History Enthusiast as well as the academic. Articles should be based on sound scholarly research, though directed to a less formal audience.

Please attach to any submission photocopies of illustrations, with the caption typed on the photocopy, and a brief biographical sketch.

Upon acceptance of the submission, photographs and illustrations should be supplied as black and white glossies, which the publisher will return.

The submission of an article, book review, or other communication, with the intention that it be published in the journal, shall be taken as prima-facie evidence that the author willingly transfers the copyright to the journal and its parent organization, which will freely grant the author the right to reprint his material in his own works. In the case of articles, upon acceptance for publication, the author will be sent a contract to sign and return.

Please write to the Editorial Offices for a complete listing of Instructions for Authors.

No copies may be made of JOURNAL of the WEST without written permission from the publisher. Write for list of back issues available.

VOL NO XVIII THE ROTARY CLUB OF STOCKTON, KANSAS No. 765

November 5, 1991

WELCOME: Doug Moore, President
The Stockton Rotary would like to welcome the Hill City and Phillipsburg Rotary members and spouses to our meeting this evening. We hope this will be an opportunity to get better acquainted with our fellow Rotarians and perhaps this will become an annual event.

INVOCATION: Floyd Fix

MEAL: Prepared by Bigge's Country Kitchen, Stockton, Kansas.

PROGRAM: Angela Bates
It is with great pleasure we announce that our program this evening will be presented by Angela Bates who is with the Nicodemus Historical Society. Angela will discuss the history of Nicodemus and what the Historical Society is doing to ensure that time doesn't forget the historic importance of this community.

ANNOUNCEMENTS:

NEXT WEEK: Stockton Rotarian Howard Wanamaker will be in charge of the Program.

UPCOMING PROGRAMS: Nov. 19, District Governor's Visit
" 26, Howard Webster - Rotarian of the Day.

December at the Grand Palace Theatre in Branson.

The human participants in the engagement weren't too shabby, either—the Radio City Music Hall Rockettes were there in one of their few engagements away from New York.

OTHER CALLS were coming in from groups booking parties, such as DARE, which held a fall camp at Hedrick's; Hospice, which also held a two-day kid camp last fall; and groups seeking a picturesque setting for reunions and receptions. A recent reception—the largest ever hosted at the farm—brought in 400 guests.

An overnight stay of a couple at the Inn was especially gratifying. These individuals, who were the first couple to stay in the bed and breakfast, returned from Missouri to spend another night.

Petting zoos are another form of entertainment furnished by Hedrick's. During the summer and fall, four petting zoos are booked at fairs across the country, plus ostrich, pig and camel races.

What kind of future performances may be demanded of Jeffrey and the other animals is difficult to envision. Whatever, it seems probable that Joe, who has such marvelous rapport with animals and equally so with humans, along with his fine staff, will come up with some way to fulfill the contract. ❖

Paul F. Long lives near Alden and is a member of Ark Valley Electric Cooperative Assn., Inc., S. Hutchinson.

For more information about Hedrick's Exotic Animal Farm, call 316/662-1881.

❖ Upcoming

Kansas Agri-Women Host National Event

The Kansas Agri-Women will host the 21st annual convention of American Agri-Women, November 7-10, at the Marriot Hotel in Wichita. The theme is "Where East Meets West and the Flint Hills Meet the Prairies."

Speakers include Rep. Pat Roberts (R-KS), U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Dan Glickman, Kansas Secretary of Agriculture Allie Devine, Kansas State University President Jon Wefald, and KSU Agricultural Economist Barry Flinchbaugh.

Speakers will address such topics as property rights, agricultural policy in the next century, biotechnology and precision agriculture.

The convention is open to all Kansas Agri-Women members, guests and those interested in learning more about American Agri-Women. For more information, call convention co-chairs Carolyn Kleiber at 316/947-3094 or Peggy Miller at 913/456-2663.

Mamie Eisenhower Honored in Abilene

The Eisenhower Center in Abilene will mark the 100th birthday anniversary of former first lady Mamie Eisenhower, November 15 and 16.

On November 15 at 8 p.m. in the Visitors Center, Mrs. Eisenhower's granddaughter Susan will lecture on her new biography of her grandmother, entitled Mrs. General Ike.

On November 16, a new exhibit, Mamie: A Centennial Celebration will open in the museum. Also, members of her family, Eisenhower White House Staff, and historians will participate in a panel discussion.

A luncheon will be held, based on a menu Mrs. Eisenhower served as first lady in November 1954. The luncheon will be followed by a 1950s fashion show presented by Lynda Scheele and the Dickinson County Historical Society.

For more information, call 913/263-4751.

Craft Festival Benefits Boy Scout Council

Crafts galore will be found at the Holiday Craft Festival, November 23 and 24 at Century II, Expo Hall, in Wichita. Proceeds will benefit the Quivira Council of the Boy Scouts of America. Quivira Council serves 19 counties and 13,000 young people in south central Kansas.

Festival admission is $2, with children under 12 admitted free. Hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Saturday, and noon to 5 p.m., Sunday. For exhibit details or other information, call Bridget at 316/683-5617.

Bazaar and Auction at Linn Nursing Home

The Linn Community Nursing Home Bazaar and Auction is scheduled for November 10 at the Linn Community Nursing Home in Washington County. The bazaar starts at 1:30 p.m. and the auction follows at 2 p.m. For more information, call 913/348-5551. ❖

If you have an event of statewide interest and would like it listed in this column, send the information to Upcoming, Kansas Country Living, P.O. Box 4267, Topeka, KS 66604. Deadline is the first of the month prior to publication.

thing along with a human actor.

Turning a giraffe loose on a 40-acre set with no restraints was a new twist.

"Jeffrey hates snow and cold weather," laughed Joe. "When it snows or gets cold, Jeffrey immediately beats it for the heated giraffe barn. I got him out into some snow to see how he would act. He liked the packed snow area all right, but when he got in snow a few inches deep, he immediately got out of it."

DURING THE filming, the giraffe had to move across the set before the camera without any form of restraint to control him. Generally, he is restrained and led by a rope attached to his halter.

"I thought I knew my giraffe well enough to know he wouldn't run," Joe said, apparently envisioning Jeffrey galloping across the 40 acres of snow on his dinner-plate sized hooves and off into the wilds of Idaho. "However," Joe said, "although I thought he'd react all right, I'll confess I sweated a lot."

Jeffrey reportedly acted admirably. Restraining, directing and guiding a loose giraffe presents a formidable problem. As Jeffrey stands 16 feet high, reaching up and fastening a rope to his halter is not a viable solution.

"We tried to direct him by holding up plastic snow fence," Joe said. "But Jeffrey soon found he could walk right through the fence."

Finally, the problem was solved in an ingenious manner.

"I put a crook, sort of like a shepherd's crook, on the end of a long pole," Joe said. "By hooking the crook between Jeffrey's horns and pushing on his shoulders, we could aim him in the direction we wanted him to go. Too, we were helped by packing paths and leaving deeper snow alongside the paths—this helped direct Jeffrey."

In recent months, Jeffrey has also starred in performances at the pyramid-shaped Luxor Casino in Las Vegas. There, in an engagement that extended for one and one-half years, Jeffrey shared the spotlight with two zebras and five camels, one a rare white animal. All were from Hedrick's.

Joe is enthusiastic about the operation of his farm, where tours are given, breakfast and bed is offered in six beautiful mural-decorated rooms in the inn, company meetings are held in the huge dining hall, and hay-rack rides are conducted to a wooded section on the nearby Arkansas River with catered refreshments. However, he said, added zest comes from such contracts as the filming of the TV commercial.

"I get calls from every-where," Joe said.

Indeed he does. As he sat in his office visiting on a day when the secretary was absent, the conversation was constantly interrupted by calls. Hedrick had just returned a call concerning animals to an individual in Puerto Rico. Learning at the time that a hurricane was scheduled to strike in two hours, Joe assured him, saying, "Do what you have to do to get ready for the hurricane. I'll call back later."

Another call involved the housing for personnel taking a troupe of animals to Branson, MO. Unfortunately, Jeffrey wasn't included with the animals—two donkeys, three camels, five sheep, a fluffy puppy, and a horse and carriage. The animals were in a seven-week performance last

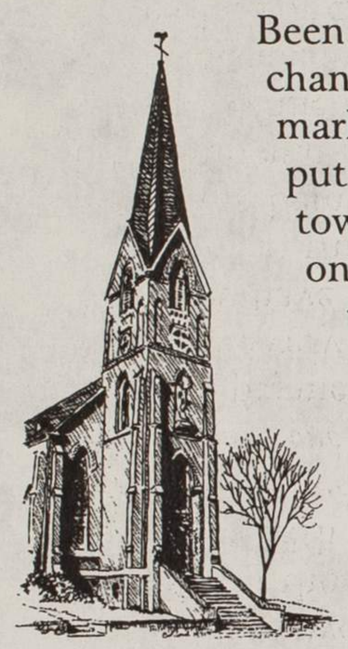
Christmas...1996

Doesn't a year go by quickly?

Here's an update on life in God's Country Northwest...

Part of the year worked with our local chamber of commerce. Kim (25 years old) asked if I would help them, because, well, older people are just more dependable. She won't understand why that struck me so funny for another 25 years. Didn't last long, but was fun for a few times. Did some drawings for them of old time buildings.

Also have worked sporadically for a travel agency here, doing flyers for their trips. That has been kind of fun, learning about how travel agencies work.



Been going to weekly meetings of downtown merchants to see if there was any benefit to the Landmark. Well, golly, I discovered that they decided to put up banners on the new period lighting downtown (revitalizing the core area), and what will be on those banners? On one side wheat, cherries and the Historic Downtown logo. On the other the same logo, but.....with a drawing (one of mine) of Old St. Peter's Landmark. So when you come to visit our world class soon-to-be-opened Discovery Center telling you all about the history of the Columbia River Gorge,and you pass through the Historic Downtown, be sure to notice those banners.

My Reno property stayed with me through most of the year, oh joy. Had a buyer who knew more than real estate folks and bankers, after close to two months she was history. Another lady changed her mind at the very last minute and decided to buy something brand new with a totally different realtor. We were certainly all pleased with her. Next a fellow who had no credit - not bad credit, just no credit, one of those who always pays cash for everything - but a big down payment. His mortgage guy said it would be a snap for him. At the very end the bank said "are you nuts? With no credit rating you have to pay at least 25% down." Kiss that one goodbye. Now at this point - August - my positive outlook for the future was being severely tested. Another prospective buyer showed up and had $20,000 down. Gee, thought I. That should be good. While that began...

Mom and I decided for sanity's sake we would just go to the beach. So we did. For close to a week and it was great. Fed another 35 loaves of bread (wheat) to the seagulls. My Auntie Helen came down for a day and fed birds with us. We ventured to an old haunt for lunch, then ventured to the Chinook Winds Casino, new that summer. Guess what? No coins, paper money only...or credit cards. Being used to Reno and Las Vegas casinos, it was pretty hard to impress me, but not the hundreds of happy gamblers sitting there on the stools feeding in the bucks. They were all intent on winning the big one.

In September, Mom had had some concerns about her heart beating too fast after walking quickly. Dr. Fran, lady doctor she especially likes, got her hooked up with Dr. Hattenhauer (cardiologist). He gave her a stress test (treadmill) and declared "You need a new valve." "When," we said. "Next week," he said. So September 30th we drove to Portland, checked into Good Sam Hospital, Oct. 1 she had an angiogram and gave consent to be given a pig valve should it be necessary (it was). Oct. 2, she had the surgery, six hours, all went well. Now, the end of November and after a checkup with Dr. Hattenhauer ton the 26th - she is doing great! Dr. said he has not had anyone do so well as Mom in recovering. He is so pleased, as was Dr. Fran (Yuhas). The first week of December we go to Portland for a checkup with the surgeon.

Also great news on Sept. 30th...at the Good Sam House (lodging for patients and family members) I got a call from Nanette, my real estate lady, that I was now the proud UNowner of property in Reno. Hallelujah!!!!!!! The check was in the mail. Was that ever a relief.

Most all year I have been working on trying to update forms, handouts and odds and ends for Old St. Peter's Landmark. I wish you could all see that building...it is just so exquisite. One overcast day I was showing it off to a couple from back east. Of course, they were properly impressed, but when a ray of sunshine blasted through one of the sets of stained glass windows, washing all of us in beautiful colors, the husband gasped and said, "My gosh! That's almost like a sign from GOD!" And I was pleased one day a few months ago to meet the great-grandson of David Povey, the artist and creator of the Landmark's stained glass windows, Kelly Mooers and his wife Sue, very interesting, nice folks from Seattle. He had not been aware that the windows were there and was thrilled to discover them. He too creates stained glass windows, following in the footsteps of great-grandpa, grandpa and dad.

I took copious notes as he talked and used his information in our last newsletter. If any of you are especially interested in stained glass, let me know. I'll send you a copy.

After several discussions, Mom and I agreed on a spot to move to - Tillamook. She was born and raised there and knows all about the rain. I wanted to move there because it is closer to the rest of our family, Mom's sister (mu auntie Helen) and her husband, my cousin and his family that are dear to us. A support group for each other. Also have several good friends from early BLM days in that area (watch out Lorts'/Waggoners) and my two life long friends, Suzy and Cara Linn, pass through on the way to their beach cabins. Close to the ocean, no 115° days (we had several of those in The Dalles this summer), rarely snow (still have 6-8 inches left in spots from being dumped on the 18th. Ten years ago the same thing happened in Reno. Hmmm.)

I contacted a real estate lady in Tillamook, Jill Smith-a very pleasant lady. She had sent some possible locations, Mom and I had looked at them and decided I had better go alone to check some of them out. (Still too early for Mom to ride in car for that long). So off I went. Looked at a huge two-way A-frame that held lots of antique furnishings on dingy chartreuse carpeting (living room), three inch shag-red with white strings (upstairs den/study area), bright royal blue (bedroom off den/study), three inch shag-pinky/red in downstairs bedroom, not to mention the sunken tub that looked like a koi pond. Straight sides, if you were standing in it the floor would come chest high if you were 5'4". Only one step, one and a half feet down, to sit on once you climbed down. If you slipped you would drown. Yikes. Another home had an 8' square pit, complete with fireplace and two huge overstuffed chairs. Brown/yellow/white highly sculptured carpeting all over this house. Yikes. Another had a lovely view and unique wallpapering in several rooms. I tell you only of the bathroom. A BRIGHT orange counter. Wallpapered on three walls and the ceiling, light switches to match, all in black background, 2'-3" floral pattern, picking up orange of counter. One's very own bat cave. Plus a tortureous entrance to the house surrounded by close-up lovely tall trees. Of course a fire truck couldn't easily get there…

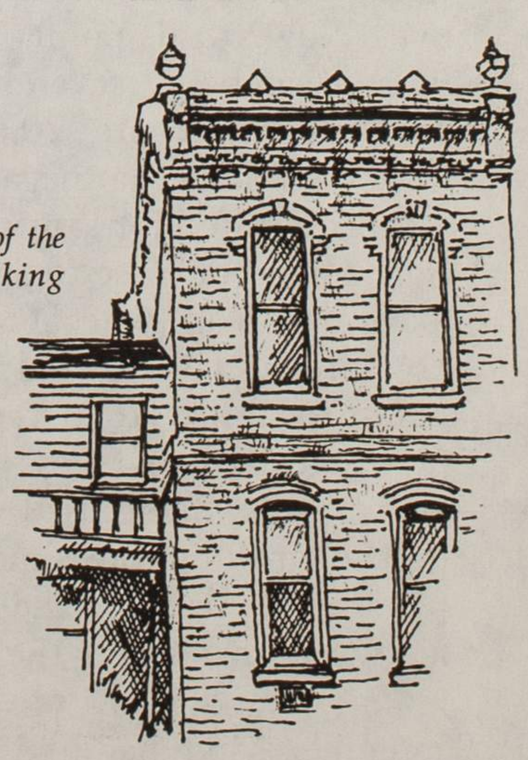
But then there was the new house. Champagne colored with white trim. On a dead end street, nice quiet neighborhood, east side looks over Yanks dairy farm, to Highway 101 in the distance and beyond to wonderful mountains. Zoned agricultural out there, so the view will not change any time soon. Did not flood in the horrid storms last February. Four bedroom, 2.5 bath, 1992 sq. feet, nice big kitchen with island, a great champagne colored carpet, no one else's dirt to clean up. Well maintained, paved road (head of road dept. and a judge live on this street, so for some time it will remain well maintained…) Met the builder, who has a very good reputation for building quality homes; he and his wife had at one time planned to live there so some things were a little extra higher quality (fixtures, carpet, layout of kitchen), has L-P siding, but it is the new and improved, primed on both sides, double painted on outside. Also has a double garage, something neither Mom nor I have ever had before. A ladder pulls down and leads to storage above. Dan (the builder) planned it so there is four feet at one side for shelves/storage/workbench. Good lad. Auto garage door opener with a beam that if broken by a kid or pet, the door stops closing. Patio outside sliding glass doors. I called Mom and told her about it, she expressed her faith in my choice (!), I called Jill that evening, met with her the next morning with my Auntie Helen for moral support, signed the papers, it will close the 13th of December, we will move in the spring, probably April, sell Mom's house and settle in for serious toe-web growning. And so it becomes my home for the next several decades.

And the new address?

3355 Fitzpatrick Road, Tillamook, Oregon 97141

Just don't use it till next summer!

Thanksgiving will be spent at home, with the company of a dear friend, now 88. When you come to visit you will see the braided rugs she made…lovely. The first of this month she moved to a retirement center, one of the main reasons being so she would not have to cook and would be less depressed. Except she says, I will probably sit there depressed cuz I gave up my home. Well, maybe, I said…but at least you won't have to cook! She was gracious enough to chuckle.



No, this is not the new place… this is the Herbring House, one of the buildings on the historic walking tour…and one of the drawings I did for The Dalles Chamber of Commerce.

Merry Christmas to you and your loved ones…may 1997 deliver delightful surprises to you and may you have the good sense to enjoy them! Looking forward to hearing from you.
