Miss Anderson has the unqualified recommendation of the physical education department. She is very bright and capable. Her social background qualifies her to meet any situation. She has a thorough knowledge of the theoretical and practical phases of her profession, and in my opinion she will make one of the outstanding women teachers in this field.

Miss Henry has developed much in poise and self-confidence in her teaching ability. She has the admiration and respect of her teachers and students. She has sound knowledge of her subject matter, her qualities of leadership are excellent, she is energetic and cooperative. Miss Henry has a delightful personality, and is an attractive, personable young woman. I am glad to recommend her most whole-heartedly.

I am very happy to recommend Mr. Raport as being possessed of highly favorable qualifications required of a teacher. He is at present an instructor in our department, and has the very high regard of his fellow teachers as well as the students with whom he comes into contact.

His scholarship is excellent, his teaching ability outstanding, and his personality most pleasing. He is serious and conscientious in his work, willing to cooperate with his superiors, and possessed of fine qualities of iniative and leadership.

Miss Ulm is a highly intelligent, attractive young woman, and she has a good knowledge of her subject. Under good administrative supervision she should develop into an excellent teacher.

James W. "Bill" Greene is one of the outstanding majors in our Department of Physical Education. He is a fine student and athlete, clean-cut, serious in his intentions, a young man who attracts boys and young men by his personality and character. He will make an excellent coach and teacher, in my estimation. He makes a pleasing appearance, has high qualities of iniative and leadership, and has high moral standards. I am glad to recommend him without reservation or evasion.

Mr. Raymond Swanson took his Master's degree in our department of Physical Education in June, 1939. He did excellent work, and showed promise of becoming a fine teacher. He is now in his first year of teaching, and we learn that he is most successfull.

Mr. Swanson is very conscientious in all his work; is mentally alert, cooperative, of high character, and in his daily living sets a fine example to young men. I am very happy to recommend him.

Max Replogle has fine personable and moral qualities, but at times shows a degree of uncertainty in taking the iniative. This, I believe, he is overcoming. He shows great promise in developing qualities of leadership. He is clean, personable, very reliable in carrying out his duties, and of very high moral character. By his daily habits of living he sets a splendid example to young men and boys.
