ot Surprized at what you say of M.r Hutchins, havering experienced him on ccations, and we believe have hinted something of him to you formerly, let him say what he pleaseth, wee had rather have his Envy then his Pitty, we know him t hypocritically false, and therefore could never trust him, we are aware of a Dog hewes his Teeth, whilst a fawning Curr may bite slighty, for which reason we your cautionary advice, we have been informed by Several Comanders of vessels by t Method he hath diverted Business from us, and by others how he hath endeavoured the ame, but neither the one or the other hath occationd our takeing the least Notice of it to him,

If our Cousin M.r Ambrose Bolton comes to your, please to discourse him on the Subject Matter
