W. Hart del. et lith.

ÆLURŒDUS STONII, Sharpe.

Mintern Bros. imp.

Ælurœdus stonii, S
Soc. xii
della Pa
vol. vi. p
p. 391 (
Agg. Or
Ailurœdus stonii, R
Ptilonorhynchus sto
p. 54.

The present speci
eastern portion of a smaller bird than olive-brown, and in

It was first met
River, and its home
Mr. Goldie found t
berries. He afterw
Mr. Forbes likewise
shoe Range, and Sir
at 4000 feet.

Mr. Goldie forwar
white, and entirely
identification was not

The following is th

Adult. General col
back, the inner webs
the latter colour; tail white; head dark bro
to the feathers, those few tiny spots of black surface of body ochrac
a few tiny spots of t
with green. Total leng

The Plate represents