ÆLURŒDUS ARFAKIANUS, Meyer.

W. Hart del. et lith. Mintern Bros. imp.

ÆLU

? Ptilonorhynchus melano Salvadori).—I Ptilorhynchus melanotis, p Ælurœdus melanotis (nec (1873, pt.).—
Ailurœdus arfakianus, Me
Gould, B. Ne
p. 151 (1877).
Ptilorhynchus arfakianus,
Ptilonorhynchus arfakian (1883).—Rose
Ælurœdus arfakianus, Sal
D'Hamonv. Bu

This is a small form of Æ eastern New Guinea. T somewhat blacker head a bird, by reason of the broa
All the specimens at pre by D'Albertis, Beccari, an Salvadori had eight specim the species to be quite dist fore-neck less black than i in size, but in one female female had all the feathers and tail being of the same All references to Æ. mel
Æ. arfakianus.
Professor Schlegel menti and refers them to Æ. mel Æ. arfakianus or to an unde
The Plate represents the which he lent to the late M