only a few false motions on the part of the horse.
Then Captain Mitchum came and said he wanted the names of all expert and amateur photographers.
I left the horse and went over to sign up. When I came back, I stepped up to the front of my horse and just as I got within four or five feet of him, a fellow spoke to me and I turned a little to answer.
The next thing I knew,
I felt something like
