- no - her friend Laurence & in 1st Cor. - Studied song in Mayflower & went over to Miss K's got a qt of milk - She seems cranky and hateful to me, guess I pray the Lord to send me a better friend - and when I get the kitten I will stay at home

Sat 9 Cool and pleasant - dreamed of A.W. last night - Warmed potatoes &c for my breakfast & made sage tea - Went to Youngs & bought Sack of Daisy flour 95 cts. Box of Salmon steak 20 cts, Honey 16 cts - Salt 5 cts Soda 7 cts 2 bars soap 10c 1 lb crackers 8 cts - Miss K. called to say that I could have a pound of butter & I got it - 25 cts - Went & bought some pork at Simmons - paid for 3 lbs 36 cts - but my steel yards made only 2 lbs 5 oz. - Mrs G. weighed it & she did not understand their steel yards - nor I, and I will let it go, shall have 11 oz the less to eat - and maybe it is better as it is - Read in our Friend L. and 1st Chron - Picked up 400 beans where Sanford threshed them Caught 2 more little mice - 7

Sun 10, A lovely day. Cooked 40 real small potatoes & mashed them fried some pork & made a flour gravy - Made biscuits of the new flour - and they are tough - I am not pleased with Daisy flour - it is not very white, takes more flour and more shortening than best quality does - & I hope I will remember - Mrs Green called & says she has made up her mind to have her home with me this coming winter and I hope she will not change her mind - Made a couple of pumpkin pies - but the milk was a little soured & I guess the pumpkin ditto - used a little soda & guess my pies will not be very good - Makes me want Vesta Kilked because she picked my pumpkin before it was ripe - Read in Her friend L, & ~~Chronicles~~ Sang 7

Mon 11 Pleasant - Did not build a fire, ate cold victuals & my pie was better than I expected. Cleaned Pie's Cage in good order. She is molting & does not feel very well. Washed the case of P.O. Boxes & toted them up stairs - Read in Chronicles & finished our friend L Sewed a few rug rags - Saw no one to speak with - 7

Tues 12 Clouds & sunshine & some showery - Built a fire, warmed victuals - Put a few tomatoes drying for figs - Stripped a few cornhusks for pillow & pulled a few weeds, Sanford
