Miss Watson to class of 1890

THE UNIVERSITY OF KANSAS.

LIBRARIAN'S OFFICE.

Lawrence, ..., 1890.

Books upon Art and kindred subjects are rare in the Library of the University of Kansas. To be sure we have a museum where facsimiles of some of the finest efforts of Greek genius may be seen. And, too, some of the recitation rooms have occassional busts in them but yet our regents have not seen fit to make very generous appropriations to secure art books for the library. Indeed they have rather artfully evaded it.

The artistic side of our natures has not been sufficiently developed. We have flowers of rhetoric and word pictures but they are not altogether satisfactory for they are objected to here. We have Ruskin minus the pictures just as we have the University catalogue with the names of the Senior class minus their pictures, but now through your kindness we shall possess this album with these pictures of the class of '90. Therefore in behalf of the Regents, of the Faculty, & the Alumni,
