in the office until things slack up a bit. I have a "beaut" of a typewriter - an Underwood
No. 5. She's some mill.
Been helping copying
service records all P.M.
and it was some job.
Yesterday I passed the final Foreign Service
tests in Wiggway, Bernaphore and Telegraphy.
I surprised myself in the latter by turning
in an accurate copy
at 20 words per minute.
M.V.E. McTelvey,
who sent for us, started
at 10 wds per minute,
sending 100 words.
