marry, it will be Marie,
or no other at all.

Probably you folks at home think I don't know a helwa lot about war, girls, and human nature in general but don't forget that the guy on the sidelines (apparently) may not be altogether short sighted — very likely has a pretty good note book between the ears.

However, I can't be worried about ~~what~~ that.

But put this down for future reference — that according to my standards Marie is the finest girl in every way, and I would
