HOLDEN LINES

Note to the Yankees—Don't let those Cincy Red, providing they cop the National league bunting, score in the first inning, because if they do it is fatal. In 39 games this far this season they have scored in the initial stanza and in 32 of them they came out victorious.

Michigan, governed by the strict moralist Mr. Dickinson and site of Wednesday night's Louis-Pastor tilt, is one of the three states that sanctions 20 round prize fights, in case anyone could last that long. The other "liberals" are Louisiana and Nevada, the governor should like that classification.

Eastern scribes are aiming both barrels of their typewriter brigade at Larry Kelly, former All-American end from Yale, for his recent blast at college football in a popular picture magazine. Most of the sports writers recalled incidents showing that Kelly hasn't been exactly consistent in several places. Better take a tip Mister Kelly and don't monkey with the press, look at the "Terrible" Terry and his "clawless" Giants. He tried to outshout the czars of the sport pages.

History lesson—Twenty years ago last Saturday the Cincinnati Reds cinched the 1919 National League Championship.

Tsk, Tsk, on Jim (Topeka Daily Capital) Reed who mentions K-State having a watch charm tackle, then states he weighs 210.

IT CAN HAPPEN HERE—Bill Dickey, Yanks catcher, stole two bases against the Chi-Sox Wednesday And it wasn't a base runners holiday because only one other base was pilfered.

Sport chit-chat . . . . A Marine, Major "Swede" Larson, is going to coach the Naval Academy grid team this fall . . . A K-State football roster lists a Stoland, who happens to be a brother of Jayhawker track star Bob . . . .

Churches Hold Annual Reception For Students

Lawrence churches will give their traditional annual receptions honoring University students Friday night.

All Methodist students and students of Methodist preference are invited to the "Penthouse Party" at Ecke's hall, just east of the church at Ninth and Vermont, at 8 o'clock tonight.

The Trinity Lutheran church, Thirteenth and New Hampshire, is entertaining Lutheran students and their friends at a reception at 8 o'clock this evening.

The Roger Williams Foundation will give a student mixer-reception at the First Baptist Church, Eighth and Kentucky, at 8 o'clock this evening.

Presbyterian students are invited to attend a reception given by the Westminster Foundation in the Presbyterian church, at Ninth and Vermont.

The reception and mixer for Congregational students will be held at the parish house tonight at 8 o'clock. Folk dancing will be one of the evening's features.

Christian students and all students with Christian church preference are invited to a reception-mixer at the Christian church, Tenth and Kentucky, this evening at 8 o'clock.

Barbara Bonham, fs, is a guest at the Gamma Phi Beta house this week.

Second Psychological Test To Be Held for New Students

Another psychological examination will be given Saturday, Sept. 30, if there are enough new students who have not taken the examination to make it worth while, A. H. Turney, associate professor of education, announced yesterday.

This examination is required of all new students. Those who have not taken the test are asked to notify Professor Turney at once.
