

Sunday July 29, 1917.

Dear Marie,

Are you having a good time at home? I would like to be there for a few days. Sure do miss the good times we had. Unless something serious turns up, I will not see Beloit again until the end of the war. This is a fine place here. We have a fine bunch of fellows and good officers. I wish you would write. I only got your first letter. Tell me all about everything at home.

Yours,
Forrest.
