The solemnitie being ended, the Mourners and friends received them at the Generes doore singinge an Antheme, The Scottish all said Mr Melvin departed and would not tarrie sermon nor Ceremonies. The Ministr of Sirolne preached out of the 39 psalme. Lord let me know mine end and the number of my daies that I may bee certified how longe I shall live, behould thou hast made my daies as a spann longe and till God came so farre as man liveth off riches and cannot tell who shall inioye them In the prayer wherin God gave thanks for sutes as were translated out of the vale of misrie, he used these words. Let us give thanks for the happie dissolution of the life and mightie Princesse Marie Quene of Scotland late Dowager of France, of whose life and death at this time (whatsoever may bee reported) I have not mutes to said, because I was not acquainted with the one nor present at the other. I will not enter into Judgment further, but it gates unto me signified unto me that God trusted to bee saved by the blood of Christ I will

God will of his salvation; For as Master Knoxe was wont to said, many one that lived a papist dyete a Protestant. In discourse of his text he onlie doalt with the generall doctrine of the vanitie of the flesh.

The Sermon ended the offeringe of the Heirs Mourner and Extremis were reviewed by the Ministr of Petterborouge, and the offeringe of the rest by the Doane; with ended, the Mourners departed. The Ceremonie of the buriall was done by the Doane, the officers breakinge their staves and castinge them into the vault upon the Coffin, and so they departed to the Ministr howse, where was a greate feast prepared. The tournes of people was of many thousands, and after dinner the Noblis departed every one towards his owne howse
