You have heard of Rawleighs bloudie Attempte to kill the King and his Royalle Progenie, and in plaie thereof to advance and Arbella Steward/ the particulars of the Indictment are these, first that Rawleigh met with Cobham on the 14th of June, and had conference of an Insurrection of a Rebellion, and of an Insurrection to bee made by the Kings Guide, to depose the King and kill his children, poore babes that now raine offeare. Here is blood, here is a new King and Queene. / An o. King ensueth all o. happiness, and the true ease of the Crispole, a thing which was all wished to bee settled after the death of the Queene, here must bee money to doe all this, for money is the sinews of warr, and where should that bee had? Mary Monsieur Hun, Monsieur Bin, Charles Count Aremberge must borrow 600000. Leaguers of Philipp King of Spaine, and out of this money Rawleigh must have 8. or 10. thousand Leaguers, but what is that Count Aremberge, though I am no good Arithmetician yet that is amounts to say in English Erle Aremberge. Then Spaine might bee friends to compasse this, Cobham must must goe to Albert Archduke of Austria, for whom Aremberge was Embassador at that time in England, what then? hee must perswade the Archduke to assist the distressed Infanta of Arbella, and from thence hee must goe to the King of Spaine to perswade him to assist the said Infanta / Sure the Con= =quest there were now the like Treason. But out of whose head came it? out of Rawleighs who must also advise his friend Cobham to bee his brother Brooke to write the Lady to write her as aforesaid / All this indicted. all this was on the 9th of June / then 3. dayes after Brooke goes acquainted with it after this Cobham said to Brooke, it will now bee well in England till the King and his Babes bee taken away / Afterward Rawleigh delivered a Booke to Cobham trea= =terously written against the King / It appeared that Rawleigh tooke Cobham either for a god or an Idole, Cobham in= =deavoureth to set up a new King or Queene. God forbidd my no Eyes should see see see but appro as upon, No for Arbella on my Conscience, shee hath no more title to the Crowne then I have yet before God I utterly disclaime, Cobham a man