Dennell hath given the whole Evidence, you shall Answer to every particular /.

Attor: Wt doe I touch you?

Lo: Cecill. Mr. Attorney, when you have done with the generall Charge doe you not meane to lett him Answer particularlie?/

Attor: Yes, when wee delive the proofes to bee read/Rawleigh prevailed Cobham by his persua= =sion to goe to Aremberge, Rawleigh conducted him to Durham house wth Lawrency a Servant of Aremberge where hee went in by a back way, Cobham could not bee quiet till hee had entertained this moron, for hee had four tres from Rawleigh, Aremberge Answered the money should bee prepared, but knew not to whome it should bee distri= =buted, then Cobham and Lawrency came back to Durham house, where they found Rawleigh and Cobham and Rawleigh went upp where they had secret Confe= =rence in a Gallery leaving Lawrencie below, and then afterwards Cobham & Lawrencie departed from Rawleigh, your Jergon wee speake, what is that Spanish embasione, Scottish subvertione, And again you are not a man fitt to take so much money for preventing of a lawfull

Peace

peace, for peace prevented by money is dishonourable, then Cobham must goe to Spaine and returne by Jersey where you were Captaine, and then because Cobham had not so much pelling (or at least so much credit wee as you have must have your advice for the distributing of the money; would you have deposed so good a King lyrically disinherited of Elizabeth eldest daughter to Edw: the 4th why then you must sett up another Par= liament to make Arbella a titular Queene of whose tytle I will speake nothing, but sure you meant to make her a State, alas good Lady you could meane her no good/.

You tell mee monies Mr. Attorney/, Raw:

Wt S^d. I am the more large, because Attor:
I know wth whome I deale, for wee have to deale wth a man of witt this day/.

Did I dee speake wth the lady? Raw:

I will treat you before I have done Attor:
Englishmen will not bee pleaded by words but they must have bribes to pleade/.

The booke were written by a man of Raw:
your profession Mr. Attorney/.

I would not have you impatient/. Attor:

Methinks etc.
