Spaine is so poore, distressing of it so largely, it had beene better for you to have kept you in Guyana then to have beene so well acquainted with the State of Spaine, besides, if you could have brought Spaine and Scotland to have joined together, you might have had hope to have prevailed a great deale the better, and for his sis withstanding, I dishonor his more malice because yonglets breeds desire of revenge, then you say you now talked with Cobham but about leases and letting lands and ordering of his house, I now know you blame of his Kitchin, but if you had at first fallen of your knees, and confessed your treason, it had beene better for you / you say he meant to have sent me a Cabbonett of 30. pounds, phaps I thought by this meanes to have out ing= =ated me thoroughly / you say all these are but circumstances / I shewed this Answeare in Circumstance is true, Here now I must appeale to my Lords in that you told him of this that he subscribed not to the Answeare /.

Lo: Hen: Howard / Cobham were not thou pressed to subscribe /

Attor: His Answeare being testified by the Lords is in as great force as if he had subscribed subscribed, but saith Rawleigh if the Accuser be alive, he must be brought face to face to speake, and alleadgeth the 25th of Edward the third, that there must be two sufficient witnesses that must be brought face to face before the Accused /.

Raw: You try me by the Spanish Inquisition if you proceed only by circumstances w without witnesse /.

Attor: This is a Treasonable speech /

Pervertere hominem instu in causa sua instu est / good my lords let it be proved by the lawe of the land or the lawe of God that there ought not be two witnesses /.
In the 10th of Edward the second, there were two witnesses appointed, yet I will not stand to defend this point in lawe if the Kingdome will have it so, It is me= rare thing for a man to be falsly accused A Judge condemned a woman at Dorlesbury for killing her husband, afterwards his man confessed the Murther when he were exe= cuted / It is considered in the Scripture Exodus Allegatus est Jehova Moses, Ex ore duorum aut trium Testium etc. Yet Christ re= quireth and approveth by Mathew, if by Canons of the Civill lawe and by Gods word
