Wouldst thou an Innocent, and aske mee question of the Murthers? Remember that it is the absolutest commandement of God if a false witness rise upp, thou shalt cause him to bee brought before the Iudges if hee bee found false, hee shall have the same punishment, the Murthers should Iome had, it is very sure for my Lord Cobham to accuse mee is my greatest danger, and it may bee a motive to excuse ~~my~~ him selfe/.

Lo: Chiefe Justice. There must not bee such a gapp opened to the destruction of the King as would bee if wee should graunte this, you plead for your selfe, but the lawes of God bind blood as hard for the safety of the King, I did now heare that course was taken in case of Treason as to write one to another; or to speake one to another during the time of their Imprisonment there hath beene Intelligence between you and Cobham and what Evidence and Grounds there may bee I know not. If the Circumstances agree not with the Evidence wee will not condemne/.

Raw: The King desireth nothing but ye Knowledge of the truth and would have nothing taken off advantage by the Security of the Lawe, if Sir Wm had a gracious King now wee now wee have, And I hope as the King is Iust, so his Ministers, if there bee but a Tryall of fire made at the London Lawe a Witness must bee deposed in the Case.

(Good my Lords) let my Murther come face to face and bee deposed/.

You have no Lawe for it God forbidd Lo: Chiefe Justice/. and man should accuse himselfe upon his own Oath/.

The Lawes presumes a man will not — Attor: condemne himselfe to accuse another, you are an odious man for Cobham thinke his case the worse that you are in it, now you shall heare of some Stuffe to bee raised in Scotland/.

Read Copleyes Examination/.

Mrs Watson told mee, that a Spiritall Copley Cocking. person told him, that Aremberge offered him 1000. Crowns to bee in the Cloud, and that Brooke said the ffl were in Scotland came out of Rawlies hee head/.

Brooke hath beene taught his lesson/ Raw:
This Examination were taken before mee, Lo: Hen: Howard. did I teach him his lesson?/

Not my Lord I protest before God, I Raw: meant it not by any Bribe but because money is scant hee will juggle
