and upon dwayne to the Crowne, your owne Vertue and the Kings favour, assuring you of manie good fortunes & much honor. I beseech you not to begynne your first buildings upon the Ruynes of the Innocent, and that their & my friendes may not attend your first Jubilee I home bound to your Honor shall fur nisse other Greatnes and for the true Report you gave to the Kings Ma.tie against whome if I should be found malignant the hearing of my Cause would not have turned & moved into friendly mocke into compassion and the purpose of the greatest number that present, into the Administration of my Estate, It is not the nature of fowle Crowes to beyett such fowle passions, neither would it agree with the Duties and love of faithfull Subte especially of your owne Nature) to bewaile his owne ruyne that had ransgressed against their most liberall and natturall Lord, I therefore trust S.r you will not be the first that shall bill to outright, root down the tree with the fruite, and undergro & barke of those that enter into the Fields of the Fatherless which if it please you to you to understand the truth are farr less worth in value then in fame, but that so worthie a gent as your selfe will rather bynde to to your service being (8) gentle not base in birth or Allyance which have Interest therein / And my selfe to my utermost thankfullnes will ever remaine readie to obey your Commands / .*
