wth one Broadway wth the same Broadway hath also confessed But without protestation. And Patrick Fitzpatrick confesseth that my Lord Cauldfield sent him to Buggill sent him And although their weare no more to condemne him yet the 2 last date. But the parties themselves wth whome he committed the fact yet they weare sufficient. But the 3 kings & had rather should proceed from the mouthes of the witnesses themselves then from mee. And therupon he caused the Proofes to bee read.

And first was Read Walter Biggs his Examinacon who saith that Anthill was a Page unto Sr Henry Smith and had no meanes upon hee came to my Ld Audley. But the Marquess Dade on. That sir Lyon entertained him at first for a Page and so hee continued 8 yeares And then my Lord pointed him to the Duke for on his Lopps ground By wch I think hee gratified him yet to the value of 2000. But hee now late at Cable wth sir Lyon till hee had married sir daughter And then gave him to the value of 7000. And this Examinate further saith that Henry Skipwith was sent for from Ireland by my Lord. To bee a Page to my Ladie. That sir Hatch and mother were very meane folkes. That hee had out of my Ladies meanes 500 p Ann. That hee gave sir at one 2000. And hath made unto Deedes of Landes unto sir. That my Lord was at first a Protestant But after the buying of Ffountell hee changed his Religion.

And then the Examinacon of the Ld Audley himselfe taken before the Lord Keeper Ld Tower Lord Marshall & the Ks was Read.

wch was first showed unto sir substituted wth his owne hand But his Lpp would not acknowledge it but denied it saying y sir Lyons were false. But being read unto sir aloude. hee acknowledged it.

The Contents whereof are as followeth.

That Henry Skipwith had noe meanes when hee first served sir And that hee had given him 1000. That Skipwith did Lye wth him when hee when hee was imprisoned in Rome. That Lyon gave ffarme of 100 p Ann to Anthill that had married his daughter And at other times to the value of 7000. And that there was one Blackburna in his house about 14 yeres were bestowed the ill disease there And therefore hee sent her away.

Then was Read the Countesse of Castlehaven her Examinacons taken before the same Lords wherein (amongst many other things) shee deposeth that shortly after the Earle married her, to witt the first or second night after, Anthill came to the Bed side where shee and her husband lay in bed together, And her husband spake lasciviously unto her, And told her that her bodie was now his, And if that shee loved him shee must love Anthill And that if shee lay w'th any other man wth his Consent it was not her faulte, but his, And if it were his will to send it shee must obey him & doe it, that hee attempted to drawe her to lye wth his servante Skipwith And Skipwith made him believe shee did it. But did it not.

That hee would make Skipwith come Naked into his Chamber And obliged in Calling up his servantes to see their Privities And hee would make her Lookes on them And Commend those that had the largest.

That one Night Lying in Bed wth her at ffountell Lyon called for his man Broadway And Commanded him to lye at his bedde feete, And about Midnight (shee being a sleepe) hee called him up to light him a Pipe of Tobacco Broadway rose in his shirte The Lord pulled Broadway into Bed And made him lye kept to her, And Broadway lay wth her And knew her Carnally, while shee made resistance, And my Lord held bote her handes and one of her ffeete the while: whereupon (shee being ffree) would afterwards have killed her selfe wth a knife But that Broadway forcibly tooke the knife out of her handes & broake it. & before that act of Broadway shee had never done it. shee further deposeth that the Lord her Husband delighted to see the Act done And made Anthill to come into the Bed to them And lye wth her whilst hee might see it, And that shee layed out to him Lauda herselfe.
