& thinke upon yo affronts wch are so hainous, yea so horrible that A Christian man ought feare to name them. And such as the depraved nature of man wch of it selfe carries him into all sinne, now the lose hates this unnatural sinne. For yo haue not only offended against the nature of man. But even against the state of man. And though yo doe not dye for it, yet yo haue abused yo daughter for hauing lond and fortune to leaue behind yo. yo would haue the various food of A harlott to inherit both wch are almost horrible and shamefull crymes.

But my Lord it grieues me to see yo stand out against the truth so apparent, and confounded upon. God might haue taken yo away when yo were blinded in yo sinne, and therefore if he hath referred yo as A subject of his mercie for he sends yo to see this day of shame to turne yo to him. And therefore seeing he doth in A manner thus loudly draw yo to his service. & send the remainder of yo tyme in teares and repentance; And let this days worke be unto yo A Consideration for many crymes and corruptions

And thereupon at the Last the Lord Audley descended to A Base and Lowe Petition to the Lords. & humbly besought them to mediate to his Ma:tie That he might not dye but bee Banished, At Least that his Ma:tie would not suddenlie cut him of. but give him time of Repentance —

Soe preliminarie being made by A sergeant at Armes he declared that the Lr high stewards Pleasure was that all sute wse Attended the Lays sentence were licenced to depte. And soe the Court brake upp

Hereafter followes

Hereafter followes Certaine Passages betweene the Earle and some of his ffriends in the Interim of his Condemnation and tyme of Execution —

The Prisoner being (According to the sentence) returned backe to the Tower of London by the Lieutenant where before he lay Imprisoned, & he remained still in Infirmitie until the King by warrant unto the Lieutenant of the Tower gaue order for his Execution. In the Interim regarding ye desiers & certaine Lres unto his sonne. The new Earle of Castell Hauen. And unto his Gifts thereby giuing them the wch satisfaction touching his ffaith & Religion wch Amongst other things, hereafte ffollowe /

The Earle of Castle Hauens Lre to his Sonne &c

Sonne Audley

God gaue yo life & A soule & Appointed me as an Instrument to bee yo ffather, wherein I haue Noble Rewards, ffirst to take care of yo bodye: wherein my pte has yo being bone of my bone and flesh of my flesh, And likewise to yo Lord that pticule Treasure wch God hath Infused. And yo and I both are especially to take Care for. wch must give An Accompte before the Tribunall of the Divine ma:tie (yo soule) it is here in this world. In A great & Terrible Storme, & left wch divers & sundry stormes & winds. Therefore it must bee yo duie to vaudit into some secure harbr whereby it may bee discharged wth an unremouvable faith. And for yo youth shall better Instructed in the Rules of that truth that shall keepe the shippe of yo soule steddy & haue sent to yo to follow the same. For if yo looke into the Scripture. The holy writt of the sacred spirit. yo will find the danger of blowing left in every winde. wherefore if I not yo faile wth the blast of pride wch raised by soile corrupt & furious gnostione. Read the Scripture and observe it. obey Gods Lawes and the Lawes of the Institute