Then Patricke fell fowly to the matter that brought him thither and said I doe confesse I am guilty of the sinne of Buggerie for wch I am now to suffer. wrongfully there fore I have confest before the Lords of the Counsell before the Lord Chiefe Justice of England or any other touchinge the same: it all true, as God is true. for the Lord committed the sinne of Buggerie upon me and I upon my Lord. But it was done by my Lords owne motion & instigation wch also is true, as God is true; I doe also confesse I did wrong my Lord of Castle haven no good will, for wch I desire Almighty God to forgive me, yet I have done my Lord no wrong but what I have spoken is truth.

I confesse I have bin a great & lamous offender against my God. in transgressing his most holy Lawes and Commandments. In thought, in word, & in deedes; & principally in swearinge & forsweare. drunkennesse. Adu in all manner of sinne whatsoever wch I have committed. Coolly wthout scruple, feare, or remorse. But this was onely for want of Grace. wch God allmightie wth drewe from me when I grew cold & starke in his desire. Heric Cardelesly neglecting to goe to my Ghostly Father for Absolution of my sinnes. Adu to strengthen & feed my soule wth the heavenly bread of the most blessed sacram. for wch I hartily entreate Gods mercie, for through this neglect I easily fell into a daily use of committing those lesser sinnes till at length I had gotten a habitt of sinninge wch now at last hath cast me upon the fatall Rocke of those desperate and abominable sinnes. And therefore I wish every man here to take Example by me. And to send a speedy and vigilant Ward of the feare of God. & continuall use of his most Holy Sacram. wch the Band of sin & Satanes temptacion Adu Iniquitie

But nothing more I must tell you. wch I had allmost forgotten It is reported that the young Lord had a hand in the plott supposed to bee laide against his father the late Earle of Castlehaven. And that I have taken some satisfaction or bribery of him, for my testimony against my Lord his father. I must therefore cleare my young Lord of this foule and most false imputation false imputation for I take it upon my death, as I hope for salvation, my young Lord has never any hand in any sure plotte neither was there any sure plott at all in Ireland. nor did I ever receive any penny or any satisfaction or bribery other from my young Lord or any other for my testimonie therein. But what I have received for the same yo all know beginninge the Halter.

This was all of substance he spake publiquely but onely when Broadway exhorted the Crowd. & reputated to attribe & belonge the holie Catholique Church, Loe said Patricke interrupting him the doth exhorte to belonge the Holie Catholique church. yet the will not dye a Catholique.

These 2 Executions were performed at Tiburne on the 7th day of Julie: Ano Dni. 1631 & the parties arraigned at the Kinges Bench Barre about a seaghnight before. Termino Trinitatis Eodem Anno.

Now Some I to the prolosing of this Tragicke discourse wch before I promised wherein is briefly set forth unto yo wch top lively discription of the Earles mortall offences in his latter dayes as followeth. Viz.
