Arthur Gorhagan by birth an Irishman a Friar of the Order of St: Dominicke.

He was arraigned att the Kings bench barre Novemb: 25. 1633. being Mondayes for speaking these words.

I will kill the King of I can come att him because hee is an Heretique.

for wordes hee uttered the last of Decemb: Anno Septimo Caroli 1631. in a dabbin of a skiff belonging to one Captn Bust an Englishman, riding in the roade of Lisbourne in Portugal were the daytes there.

To wch hee pleaded not guilty The Kings Attourney informed agt him upon the Statute of 25. Ed: 3. Where Pitz and Ellinge two English Merchants, or factors appeared Wittnesses against him, who deposed they heard him speake the words then, and there, wch they plainly related to Capt: Bust, who was att that time (of the uttering of the two words)