Clerkes in the Exchequer before the Consideration hereon had will rashly of course make Execution for levying thereof unlesse the Lord present it by making stay thereof. And for that the Petitioner hath his Plea readye herein to answeare to plead in barre of the said Fine and of the proceedings thereupon to be had, but can finde no Counsell willing to plead the same or to move the Court or to give advice herein or to conferre with him being a prisoner, but his fellow prisoners neither can he come forth of prison to attend the Lords

The Pet. humbly desireth the Lords to give Order that his Plea may be filed in Court in the Petitioner Osborns office from whence the Proceed is to be made, and to stay the proceed thereupon to be had for levying of the Fine so certifyed to be so imployed but aforesaid until the matter may be considered on by the Lords.

And the Pet. shall ever pray for the Lords Health

The Plea. Termino Sancte Trinitatis Anno quinto Regis Caroli
