mammals coming in faster than I can accommodate them. Did not have time to make evening inspection of research area. The weather for today was, in the morning relatively clear, then suddenly haze enveloped the mountains. In the afternoon wind blew and storm clouds passed overhead with little rain in certain portions of the valley. Practically no sun except early this morning. Late this evening the clouds were low, no stars with moon attempting to break through several times at about 8:30 P.M. Cool breeze.
