unto him and I doubt not to fix it indubitablie upon him, and soe from the power and greatnes of him tomes the danger of our religion, for politie in that great question of tunnage and poundage the interest that is pretended to bee the Kings, is but the interest of that person to undermyne the politie of this government and thereby to weaken the Kingdome. It was the Counsell of Hospitall Chancellor to Charles the wyfe King of France that the waie to weaken this Kingdome, was to impeach the trade of it, and soe to lay our walls wast and open. And I doubt not but by the dismission of a fewe dayes to prove that his labors are to undermyne so that he moves stranngers to come in to drive our trade or at the least our Marchants to trade in strangers bottomes, wch is as dangerous, and this is that w^th imprinte this feare in his person and makes him misinterpret our proceedings to his Matie.
Now therefore it will bee fit for true Englishmen to reforme theire untiles, and to shewe theire desire of the safetie bothe of King and Kingdome and to resolve to defende the sinceritie of our Religion and to shewe our resolutions also for defence of the right of the subt, whereby we may declare our selves to bee freemen, and soe the more wealthie and able to supply his Matie upon all occasions, and that wee shonld declare all wch wee suffered to bee the effect of newe Counsells to termyne of the government of this Estate, and to make a protestation aga^t all those men neither greater or subordinate that they shall all bee declared as Capitall enemies to the King and Kingdome that will persuade the King to take tunnage and poundage w^thout graunt of Parliam^t And that yf any Marchants shall willingly pay those duties w^thout consent of Parliam^t they shalbee declared as antesparis to the
