Temperature at 4:45 A.M. = 35°F. No wind. Generally one can hear the wind in pines in higher ridge while no wind will be blowing at camp. The best time for deer hunting is early morning. The morning departure should be time so that one is on top before ~~at~~ at daybreak. Then remain put until the other hunters which start later drive them to you. Hunted this morning & then left for Cross. This area is gradually being depopulated of ♂ deer, particularly the older animals.

5 students at the University just starting out in a course of mammal preparation and field work measured one individual Mus musculus for first time after preliminary explanation and demonstration.

Their measurements are:

188 - 88 - 19

177 - 83 - 19

179 - 88 - 20

174 - 89 - 18

183 - 89 - 19

183 - 90 - 19

183 - 90 - 19

182 - 88 - 19

average 181.1 88.2 19

actual 185 94 19.6

It would indicate that measurements will vary for different workers particularly those individuals who are new to the business. It is evident that the measurements are, in all ^{average} cases, under the actual measurement. This is a consideration in dealing with and accepting the data of fellow workers.

Observed six Cedar Waxwing on upper B.Y.U. Campus at 10:30 A.M. They were in top of trees near building
