

39. Spatula clypeata 3 males couldn't count females.
40. Tyrroca valisneria 1-3-1 on the pony pool south of Cad's farm. Saw the first on Cad's pool though.
41. Anthus spinoletta pubescens 1-5-1-13-8-3-3-2-22-23 -
Quite a bunch. I believe they had been feeding as a general flock, but my presence caused them to rise in alarm in broken formation as I neared the spread out members.
42. Dafila acuta tizihoa 2-9-2-2 - Rather general in the pools. The Pintails haven't been so numerous this year, seems to me. Probably don't know what I'm talking about.
43. Asio flammeus flammeus 2-1-1 Battling back & forth about 500 yards away, in the most part. Saw me quite close though. Another was kind enough to perch on a fence post.
44. Tyrroca marila 1 The last bird to fly from the South pool. Before hand he had accompanied the few canvasbacks in the pool but seemed reluctant to fly until I approached to about 200 yards. Was quite certain of the identification.
45. Chauleasmus
Chauleasmus streperus 4 to 6 "rather unsafe because it didn't seem just right at the time". However, I'm rather certain that a few were present, and I think it can be recorded as such.

Note - Several thousand gulls were returning overhead at about 4:30 or 5:00 till 7:00 o'clock.

Also - one drake shoveller, after flying away with some mallards & other shovellers, returned to see if his mate had left also - she had - so he promptly waved good-bye to me - flew the coop as it were.

Jullie D