

CYGNUS COLUMBIANUS

NATURAL SIZE

These swan tracks wandered over sands at mouth of small creek that drains lakes in river bottom for some 1/2 mile to south on west side of Kaalak River. Also on sands were tracks of the red fox and are recorded by tracing directly over imprint, as was done in the case of the swan and wolf. They were the most numerous of the tracks on the sand. An beach photo-graphed Indian soap from sands with tent in background, 510712-1