

Skull only x 730. ♂ Alopex l. innuitus. no meas. Collected by William Selak for Ira L. Wiggins.

Skull only x 731. ♀ Alopex l. innuitus. no meas. Collected by Miles Etta for Ira L. Wiggins.

Skull only x 732. ♀ Alopex l. innuitus. no meas. Collected by Miles Etta for Ira L. Wiggins.

Near Point Barrow, Alaska

(1 Feb. 1953)

Skull only x 733. (?) Alopex lagopus innuitus. no meas. Collected by Miles Etta for Ira L. Wiggins.

8-10 mi. S Point Barrow Village, Alaska

Skull only x 734. ♀ (?) Alopex l. innuitus. no meas. Collected by Miles Etta for Ira L. Wiggins.

Skull only x 735. ♂ (?) Alopex l. innuitus. no meas. Collected by Miles Etta for Ira L. Wiggins.

Near Colville River, 69° N, 157° W, Alaska

(Feb. 1953)

Skull only x 736. ♂ Gulo luscus. no meas. Collected by Joe Kelly for Ira L. Wiggins.

About 150 yards from ocean 1 mi. SW of Point Barrow Camp, Alaska skull + shel x 737 (20 Nov, 1952)

♀ Vulpes fulva alascensis. 924-352-132-62-8 lbs. 3 oz. Coll. by WH Craig for Dr. Ira L. Wiggins. Trapped because fox was damaging Brittons cable leads by chewing insulation.

Coastal Bluff near Skull Cliff about 35 mi. SW of Point Barrow, Alaska.

(8 Mar 1953)

Skull only x 738. ♀ Vulpes fulva alascensis. no measurements. Collected by Daniel Thompson Okonaulak for Ira L. Wiggins. Hydoid apparatus lacking.

Museum Natural History, Univ. of Kansas, Lawrence, Kansas

April 15, 1953

A commercial photographer took 3 photos (strobolite) of the two lemmings nos. 530828-1 and 530506-1. When they were placed in the plastic cage together (always separated before) they approached each other front on with their noses separated