

The heat from the kitchen stove cannot reach the dining room or any other room except the pantry. The dining room is about the size of our bathroom. Their first home was a 'baska' with a dirt floor ! They are allowed 25 watt globes and pay 40¢ a month per outlet. The electricity comes on in the evening at 5.00 P.M. and is shut off at 6.00 A.M. Linda, Marsha and Steve are about like Jay, Chris and Polly in age and are all well developed both mentally and physically. The baby is in the crib. They have exactly the same children's books as our children and in addition a good library of records which seems a part of them. Linda has just finished the book 'Neighbors' which Jay finished last year.

Mrs. Elliott had quite a time with her last baby. When she was due at the hospital in Guatemala City, the roads were washed out, the communists were in power and would not permit her to leave Nebaj. There was no gasoline available for their car. They apparently were able to surmount these obstacles and finally reached Guatemala City Maternal Hospital
