

5-2-14-37 Blaine & Mark as to left.
Marcus pointing to eagle cliffs.

4-2-14-37 Harry Thomas
on flats in Rock Canyon.
Eagle cliffs in distance

6-2-14-37. Ultimate goal of trip. Regaining plaque from Comifer tree. These fellows will have the honor of having their names inscribed on this plaque with other Honor Hikers.

The Honor Hike Plaque is place in mountains by all members of the troop where it remains until regained by chosen qualified members of the organization. To be chosen as a Honor Hiker is the highest achievement of troop 51 which infers that the individual qualifies as a leader, outstanding character, outdoor man, good skier & mountaineer etc. To make this winter trip one must be prepared to cope with all pending emergencies or accidents. The Honor Hiker must be acquainted with the animals & birds as well as a conception of the geological significance of the surrounding country. He must also have a fundamental knowledge of the snow and weather conditions. Several preparatory trips are taken previous to the Honor Hike where the individual received an acquaintanceship with winter camping and group compatibility. In our estimation an Honor Hiker is equivalent to an eagle scout as far as the out-of-door feature can be compared.

3-14-37

Spent Sunday afternoon south of town looking over the newly drained