

- Cardinal. Fewer birds than April 23 trip, mainly singles.
- Dickcissels most common bird. Most of them singing on outer edge of trees away from creek. This is an arrival of a bird between April 23 and May 6, at least there were no birds seen or heard on the earlier date.
- Warbling Vireo. Heard many enroute.
- Blue Jay. Fewer than April 23 but still in groups of 2 and 3.
- Grackle. Three individuals pass over area.
- Spotted Sandpiper. 15 singles, more higher on creek drainage than last trip April 23.
- Green Heron. One group 4, 5 other singles. We did not see this herd on previous trip.
- English Sparrow Few at bridges near farmhouses
- M. Dove. About 30 pairs and a few singles.
- R. breasted woodpecker. 5 individuals. Did not call in usual manner.
- Crow. 5, two disturbing G. H. Owl.
- G. H. Owl. 2 pairs, 3 singles. One harassed by 2 crows + 2 jays
- Hairy Woodpecker. 5 singles
- Starling. Fewer birds than last trip.
- B. C. Chickadee. 8 pairs
- Turkey Vulture. 1 awkwardly left mass of trees to alight on outer tree.
- Swainson Hawk. One at Eudora
- Red-tailed Hawk 2 enroute, 1 at Eudora.
- Catbird. Noted 4 and heard others
- Houa? Wren. Heard 5 singing
- Robins. 3 at some farmhouse as last trip. No others noted.
- Swainson Hawk? One at Eudora. Circling with a turkey vulture and Swainson Hawk and from comparison of size was much to large for either a sparrow hawk or pigeon hawk. It flew west out of sight.
- Cowbirds. Only 2 individuals.
- Red-winged blackbirds. 3 small flocks of about 15 birds each.
- Chimney Swift Few in area.
- Swallow sp? Few at one farm house.
- Yellow shafted 3
- Eastern Phoebe. 5 birds. All nests that had been placed in cliffs along creek were inundated ^{and} but birds not in area of nesting sites. Nest in high bridges still being used.
- Two beaver + 1 muskrat noted.