

6-8-11-37 Lynn getting ready for some last minute preparation before setting out on evening trap line. Camp at Deep Lakes.

3-8-11-37

mood one

7-8-11-37 Deep Lakes. Taken from south shore looking north. Camp at outlet of lake. The Forest Service has planted several species of trout in this lake.

4-8-11-37

Second stage

8-8-11-37 Typical shore view of Deep Lakes with afternoon ripple reflection which so characterizes the lake.

5-8-11-37 Third stage of variable mood of Deep Lake. These progressive movements of rippling agitation of the water surface became a permanent picture to me as I watched them play upon a smooth lake from morning to night from the preparation station, along the shoreline. This lake is certainly a gem for beauty and should be preserved and in its pristine beauty for those individuals who care to see nature in here primitive state. An extensive fire has already wiped out an adjoining area. Overgrowing has also produced some undesirable effects.