

3-9-8-37 Open savannah. Donkey Lake at base of lava cap. The trees are most interesting and luxuriant on the long slopes from base of lava plateau. Conifers and aspen dominant.

4-9-8-37 The group at shore of Donkey Lake. Best fishing on far shore where water springs cascade down into the lake. A limit of fish is a sinch.

2-9-8-37 Fish in camp. Plenty to eat and time to loaf.

1-9-8-37. Open tent camp. Nights too cold for comfort even with bags.

1-9-10-37 Donkey Lake from talus slopes to south. Harry Thomas in foreground. At this time of evening the lake below became alive with fish with the surface of the lake being completely agitated. Their constant jumping & feeding could be heard from this distance.

2-9-10-37 Andesite lava cap of the Aquarius Plateau. Moranic studies of both rock flow and of ice age present themselves here. Area characterized by large boulders, some 20 tons balanced in talus accumulations like a scale, when, with the least pressure tumbles over. Rocks present.
