

The alga Chlamydomonas nivalis was on all snow slopes in the Snowy Range but varied in intensity and position. They occurred from highest snow cornice to lowest snow field on glacial platform. Within one snow patch the intensity would vary from light reddish pink to a darker intensity in channels and patches. 700820-8.

