

The following is from tape recorded overlooked at time of recording last days trip. It supplements the above from the note book. Left Bass Lake with visibility approx 2/10 of a mile. at ⁵⁹ 120 sparrow hawk. mourning doves have increased since first ones observed yesterday. 29 junction with 71 59131 Sault Center. 133 2 crows. From here to Missouri will keep complete census of crows and sparrow hawks. There are considerably more birds in the ~~prairie~~ prairie area than the Trans-Continental Coniferous Forest including meadowlarks, ducks, gulls (some Franklin), cowbirds, grackles, bowwites etc. now in area of Kettle Lakes, 650 marsh hawk, 156 some large flocks of grackles which is new to the landscape, 172 Wilmar. Black terns in lake, 177 sparrow hawk. 184 sparrow hawk. 209 sparrow hawk. 245 fox squirrel road kill, 293 2 crows, 296 3 crows, 407 2 crows at junction 217 and 71. 441 Audubon 499 first red-headed woodpecker. 517 second redheaded woodpecker. 544 Pickering, Missouri. 552 Maryville, Missouri at 7:25 P.M. 570 first evidence of bag worms, raccoon road kill. mourning doves across Iowa average ^{1 per} 3 per miles and occur as singles or in pairs. 59579 Savanna. 8:10 sundown. Still no crows in area where they should have increased over the Iowa populations. Cicadas heard for first time in this area and then the call was continuous. End of census. Continued to Leavenworth, thence S to highway 40, thence to Lawrence arriving at 10:30 at mileage 59670 or 7040 miles covered in last month.