mainly from Conifers, talus sealed with mosses and lichens, fallen logs. One Eutamias observed in area. 100 traps Logging trucks bringing logs from E. They travel 45-60 M.P.R. on these roads and without regard for other traffic. Unloaded they probably exceed 60 M.P.R. The number of trucks would indicate that timber had to be removed at all costs. It is said that the loggers will on occasion deny passes on government roads. The noise of these trucks is unbearable. Continued E down Green River to Pemberton, situated in a most beautiful intermontane (wide valley) surrounded by magnificent mountains and snow covered peaks. Strove N for several miles and on return to approx 2 mi. N of Pemberton took photo 740731-11 ^{and 740731-11a} to the SW of feed and mt. beyond. Photos 740731-12 and 740731-13 of snow covered ranged SW of Pemberton (telaphotos). Continued S from Pemberton for several miles and at point where road crosses main river for first time took photo 740731-14 of mountain range to W from bridge. Steller's jay and Oregon juncos in area. Photographs approx 2:00 P.M. Returned to Green Lake Camp and hitched up with trailer and at 3:00 P.M. at mileage 87770.9 left for Horseshoe Bay. Photo 740731-16 of Green Lake. Photo 740731-17 below Daisy Lake down to SW showing deep canyons + distant snow covered mts. Telo-photos 740731-18, 740731-19, 740731-20 of snow covered mts to W. Photo 740731-21 of Paperpulp mill smog. 740731-22 of air pollution at Britannia mines. Arrived Horseshoe Bay at 6:10 at 87841. Crossed by ferry to Langdale, thence to Roberts Creek where we camped in Provincial Camp grounds. Set 50 traps in forest at camp, mainly along Robert Creek.
