

Provo, Utah.

Dec 30, 1974

Spent the day at Marij and Don's. Visited Dove Evans and his family, David Stimpson and his family, Edith and Doris and the old homestead. It is interesting how places become small in size after having been away for so long. The house at 255 E 1st So seems to be at least  $\frac{1}{3}$  smaller than when I lived there. This evening we drove to the mouth of Provo River where we found the lake frozen and water relatively high. From Marij's home made photo of Provo City below from veranda. no. 761230-1. For record took several shots of interior of their home, several showing antequied furniture of mother and Dad. These are:

- 761230-2 Don in living room off kitchen near fireplace
- 761230-3 ibid
- 761230-4 main living room - rug from Hanking from Donnie
- 761230-5 ibid
- 761230-6 ibid
- 761230-7 main living room and antequied sideboard.
- 761230-8 " " " " " " " " closeup (without legs & mirror)
- 761230-9 " " " " glass table and statuettes.
- 761230-10 " " " " old table, chairs & sideboard antequied.
- 761230-11 ~~See China~~ ~~at~~ closet antequied.
- 761230-12 Mary & Don's bedroom.
- 761230-13 " " " "
- 761230-14 " " " " and old music cabinet antequied
- 761230-15 " " " " and glass objects from Europe
- 761230-16 Guest room. Photo of Don's mother
- 761230-17 Some statuettes from Europe.
- 761230-18 Guest room and mahogany statue from <sup>Chicago</sup> World Fair
- 761230-19 ibid
- 761230-20 Grandfather Clock
- 761230-21 " " and top of sideboard
- 761230-22 Don & Mary dog "Bingi". with favorite stone and bone.

One of the remarkable weather conditions in Utah is the lack of snow in the mountains. Timpanogas has no snow on the west face except an elevated snow cornice in the neck of the sleeping princess and this is only faintly observable. This is true with other mountains in the valley. Pollution is getting some attention now and no new industry <sup>or expansion</sup> can settle in the valley bordering the Wasatch Range until the present pollution problem is cleared up.