

Hawk haven

(Staff photo by Kent Van Hoesen)

Two young red-tailed hawks peer from their nest overlooking Clinton Lake west of Lawrence. When the lake flooded acres of land along the Wakarusa River it drove many families from their homes, but the hearty hawks have returned to nest in their traditional spot. Story and more photos in Sunday Variety, page 1B.