

CONSTITUTIONAL HISTORY

The Constitution of the United States is a subject of great importance and interest to every citizen. It is the foundation upon which the government is built, and it is the duty of every citizen to know its principles and its history.

A HISTORY OF THE CONSTITUTION

The history of the Constitution is a story of the struggle for liberty and justice for all. It is a story of the men who fought for the principles of the Constitution, and of the men who have tried to destroy it. It is a story of the triumph of the Constitution over all its enemies, and of the triumph of liberty and justice for all.

The Constitution was born in the year 1787, at the Constitutional Convention in Philadelphia. It was the result of the struggle for independence from Great Britain, and of the struggle for the rights of the people. It was the result of the struggle for the principles of liberty and justice for all.

The Constitution is the foundation upon which the government is built. It is the source of all the powers of the government, and it is the limit upon all the powers of the government. It is the law of the land, and it is the duty of every citizen to obey it.

The Constitution is the greatest achievement of the American people. It is the greatest achievement of the human race. It is the greatest achievement of the age of reason and of the age of liberty.
