

Genus RHINOCEROS

The Rhinoceros is a large, heavy-bodied animal, with a single horn on its nose. It is found in the forests and savannas of Africa and Asia. The Rhinoceros is a herbivore, feeding on grass and leaves. It is a slow-moving animal, but it is very strong and can charge at its enemies.

ALPINE CHOUQU

The Alpine Chouqu is a small, mountain-dwelling animal. It is found in the high mountains of the Alps. The Alpine Chouqu is a herbivore, feeding on grass and leaves. It is a fast-moving animal, and it is very agile.

The Alpine Chouqu is a small, mountain-dwelling animal. It is found in the high mountains of the Alps. The Alpine Chouqu is a herbivore, feeding on grass and leaves. It is a fast-moving animal, and it is very agile. The Alpine Chouqu is a small, mountain-dwelling animal. It is found in the high mountains of the Alps. The Alpine Chouqu is a herbivore, feeding on grass and leaves. It is a fast-moving animal, and it is very agile.

The Alpine Chouqu is a small, mountain-dwelling animal. It is found in the high mountains of the Alps. The Alpine Chouqu is a herbivore, feeding on grass and leaves. It is a fast-moving animal, and it is very agile. The Alpine Chouqu is a small, mountain-dwelling animal. It is found in the high mountains of the Alps. The Alpine Chouqu is a herbivore, feeding on grass and leaves. It is a fast-moving animal, and it is very agile.