

CHITTY REGISTER

1850

of the 1st January 1850

The first of the year 1850 was a day of great interest to the people of this country. It was the day when the new year began, and when the old year ended. It was a day of great joy and celebration, and when the people of this country gathered together to celebrate the new year. It was a day of great joy and celebration, and when the people of this country gathered together to celebrate the new year.

The first of the year 1850 was a day of great interest to the people of this country. It was the day when the new year began, and when the old year ended. It was a day of great joy and celebration, and when the people of this country gathered together to celebrate the new year.

The first of the year 1850 was a day of great interest to the people of this country.