

THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO

PHILOSOPHY

The University of Chicago is a leading center of research and learning in the liberal arts and sciences. It is a place where the best minds from around the world come to study and work together. The university's commitment to excellence is reflected in its rigorous academic standards and its commitment to the highest quality of education. The University of Chicago is a place where the past meets the future, and where the pursuit of knowledge is always at the forefront.