

CAROLINE THE PRINCESS OF BRUNSWICK

By Mrs. J. G. BURTON

First published in 1847 by G. B. Whittell & Co., London.
This edition published by the Trustees of the British Museum, 1903.

Printed by R. Clarendon, London.

London: Printed and Sold by G. B. Whittell & Co., 1847.

The Princess Caroline was born at Brunswick on the 12th of October 1748. Her father, George, Duke of Brunswick, was a brave and gallant soldier, and distinguished himself in the Seven Years' War. Her mother, Sophia, was a Princess of Anhalt-Bernburg. She was educated in the most liberal manner, and was distinguished by her talents and accomplishments. She was married to George, Duke of Brunswick, in 1763. They had several children, of whom the Princess Caroline was the eldest daughter.

She was married to George, Duke of Brunswick, in 1763. They had several children, of whom the Princess Caroline was the eldest daughter. She was married to George, Duke of Brunswick, in 1763. They had several children, of whom the Princess Caroline was the eldest daughter.

She was married to George, Duke of Brunswick, in 1763. They had several children, of whom the Princess Caroline was the eldest daughter. She was married to George, Duke of Brunswick, in 1763. They had several children, of whom the Princess Caroline was the eldest daughter.