Bohnke's Journal, from the 1st of July 1852 to the 31st of December 1852

It is with a few words of the present that I will begin my journal. I am now in the city of Philadelphia, and I have just returned from a short visit to the country. The weather is very pleasant, and the people are very kind. I have seen many beautiful views of the city, and I have enjoyed every moment of my stay. I have also seen many interesting people, and I have learned much from them. I am now going to the country again, and I will continue my journal there.

The first of the month was a very busy day. I had to go to the office and see to the papers. I also had to go to the bank and see to the money. I was very tired when I came home, but I was glad to see my family. I had a very good dinner, and I went to bed early. I was very happy to be home, and I was glad to see my family. I had a very good night's sleep, and I was very refreshed in the morning.
