

it excavating the
king downwards,
composed of moss

the yolk showing
h are thickest at

fruits are added

regularly stripped
side of the berries
egg. The berry is
k dropped to the
to account for the

me like "clapper,
e;" and Meyer as

than transcribe it

similar in colour, it
of the white patch
species. The tars
d the anterior toes
the feathers much
of moderate length;
ed.

rt of the head and
neck greyish white;
hills, their coverts,
hills with yellowish
are greyish black,
a tinge of yellow.
ally the black tars,