

food; and the pomy. Many paling by the destructive
eater calamity
by the Red-
which, I have noticed large trophe; for a
ften low down
have paid con-
hey had been common lady-
dropped from
n pro and con,

ed while it sits
catcher-like, it
ans the surface
at once sallies
mediately rises
ght, moving his grey head and e appears to be wanting to give est is generally
n the hedge, at
of May, 1858, reen moss, then
re, nearly eight
and grey spots
ll: after being

escribed above,
grey, forming a
nes in breadth.
Eneoctonus for ration from the e, for which the

at the breeding

; head and neck
grey; primaries
y margined with teral feathers for outer web of the
ower part of the
; irides brownish

led in England.
brown, deepening
r-coverts brown;
lower part of the
flanks light grey.

d the Stag-beetles