It is not to be used to show that sickness in any part of the territory may be very naturally expected the Medical Men in the Settlements as far as the Authors observation have served him have been generally successful of course of course there will be quacks or pretenses in all professions or trades every where the average price for a good Medical Mans attendance including medicine for a moderate distance is 2 Dollars per Visit

The various ^{tribes} kinds of Indians their Character &c very many persons coming from the east especially the lady are inclined to think that there is something very dreadful in the Character of the Indian they look at them through the Mirror of their terrified Imagination they think they see them with their body painted in frightful colours their hands stained with human blood in one hand the terrible Tomahawk uplifted & in the other a bloody scalping knife with a frightful number of scalps lying around — but however correct this view of the case might have been in days of yore it is far from being correct now — there are a great many tribes of Indians in various parts of the territory at the present day & warlike tribes to & they sometimes go to war with each other with deathlike fury stamped on their countenances determined to conquer or die if the Author have frequently seen them on these warlike expeditions
