

Many were the snares traps & pitfalls they placed in his path very many were the Abutreses fortifications & Ramparts they placed with the utmost of their skill in ~~his~~ the road to oppose his march as Governor but in vain he escaped. their snares he broke through like a bold & able warrior all fortifications & c. & established himself as a Governor possessed of first rate qualifications again if we view him as a man of courage his conduct will well sustain him upon that Ground behold him threatened by the proslavery party with the rope, revolver, rifle & Bowie ~~gun~~ knife after the Election. but did any of these things move him did he recede at their puny threats did he tremble at their outbursts of wrath & fury. No Governor Preceder was not the Man to quail but like a well built Light Hoop nobly withstanding the shock of every angry Billow & throwing forth a blaze of light & safety all around

Chap. 15

The tremendous indignation of the people at his removal by a certain Individual

The O

The author would beg leave to inform the reader that there was one thing in particular that roused & excited the indignation of the people