As most of the people who read this book—we conclude—are familiar with the history of the building of the Pacific railroad, and as we have, for nine years past, published a condensed account of it,—the trials, struggles and final triumph of the enterprise—it must suffice for this time for us to give a few facts and figures, and then pass on to our review of the cities, towns and objects of interest along the road, and in the country adjacent thereto. The first survey was for the Central, over the Sierra Nevada Mountains, made by Theo. D. Judah, in the summer of 1860, followed by a more thorough one in the succeeding

The Indians call the telegraph the "whispering spirit."
Emigrants, on the plains, are called by the older settlers "pilgrims."
"Cayotes" are a small species of wolf. "Jack rabbits" are of the hare family.
Infantry Soldiers are called, by the Indians, "heep walk men."
